PRESIDENT HEARS COMPLAINT OF WESTERN STOCK RAISERS

WITNESSES TELL OF OFFICER'S SLAYING

Relate Facts In Strayer Shooting Before Coroner

Detective Lowers And Others Tell Of Murder Of Detective By Negro

STRAYER SHOT DOWN WITHOUT CHANCE

Still Mystery In Place Where Negro Had Concealed His Weapon

After a brief session last night at the office of Alderman L. C. Mantz, at which the eye witnesses testified concerning the death of U. L. Strayer, Baltimore & Ohio detective, the coroner's jury returned a verdict that "U. L. Strayer came to his death about 1:20 a. m., eastern standard time, July 8, 1927, in the New Castle Junction yards as a result of a shot fired from a gun in the hands of an unknown negro, whose identity may be established by a scar on his right cheek, and we recommend that an indictment on a charge of murder be brought in order that the negro may be held, if apprehended."

Coroner J. P. Caldwell presided at the inquest and District Attorney J. Elder Bryan was present and questioned the witnesses as did the coroner and members of the jury. The members of the jury were H. K. Bell, G. N. Clark, R. E. Cage, Joseph Graham, N. J. Patterson and Charles W. Haus.

Lowers Testifies.

Witnesses heard at the inquest were A. E. Lowers, B. & O. detective and companion of Strayer; Harry E. Boak, B. & O. round house foreman; C. F. Sewald and Dan Richards, all of whom were at the scene of the shooting at the time it occurred.

A. E. Lowers testified that the shooting occurred about 1:10 a. m., eastern standard time, on July 8, in the B. & O. shop yards. It was reported to him and Strayer about 1 o'clock that the negro, who had been stealing the lunches of the workmen, was in a certain engine in the shop yards. He, Strayer, P. J. Gormley, C. F. Sewald and Dan Richards were at the place when the shooting occurred.

Lowers went up on the engineer's side of the engine and found the negro sleeping in the fireman's seat. He flashed a light on his face, then woke him up, ordering him to get up and out of the place. The negro said

Taylor will give the edict.

Rev. Montgomery graduated in this year's class at the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary.

Fire Chief Lynn Injured At Fire

Hand Burned While At Blaze At New Castle Tin Mill

A small fire originating in the ventilator pipe of the restaurant of the New Castle Tin Works at 6 a. m. today caused a loss of approximately $25 and also resulted in the injury of one of the hands of Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn.

Grease accumulated on the ventilator pipe caught on fire and spread to the roof. Chief Lynn was up on the corrogated iron roof of the building investigating the extent of the loss and possible further fire, when his shoes slipped on some firefoam. In preventing himself from falling to any great distance, he threw out his right hand and when it came in contact with the hot iron roof, the palm of the hand was severely burned. The [illegible] was turned in from box 82.

Showers Is Promise Of Weather Man As Relief From Heat

Relief from the heat wave is promised by a forecast of thunder showers tonight followed by cooler weather. This will be quite a relief to the torrid heat which hovered over New Castle yesterday and caused the mercury to soar far above the 90 mark.

Today the thermometer is trying to beat its record of yesterday and if it does not go out of the top before the thunder showers come we will all feel fortunate.

Nevertheless, this is what we were all crying for in June, so come on July sun and we will enjoy roasting ears in August. A look at the corn fields is quite encouraging. The stalks of corn seem to have grown by inches every day.

The heat wave which struck New Castle is reported as general all over the eastern part of the United States. Many places deaths and serious cases of prostration from heat have been reported but none have suffered seriously from the heat in this part of the country as far as has been learned.

Fear Thousand Dead In Palestine Quake

(International News Service)

CAIRO, July 13. — Demoralized transportation facilities today hampered the efforts of relief forces striving to reach the interior of Trans-Jordania, where more than 1,000 persons are believed to have lost their lives in the most serious earthquake in the last 1200 years.

Although not more than 150 are believed to have been killed by the tremblor in Palestine itself, a far greater number than this lost their lives, according to latest available reports, when earth shocks rocked wide territories in various sections of Trans-Jordania.

The number of injured is yet unknown due to the difficulty of obtaining full details of the catastrophe from the affected area.

An eye-witness arriving here from Trans-Jordania reported that 300 persons had been killed at Maan, eighty at Lydda, seventy-two at Ramleh, and thirty-six at Amaan.

All hospitals in the district are filled to overflowing with the injured. The eastern portion of Palestine, and the section of Trans-Jordania directly adjoining it, appears to have been the worst hit by the quake.

The population of the affected region has been thrown into a panic for fear of a repitition of the tremblor, many persons whose homes were not destroyed, as well as hundreds of others who were made homeless by the quake, are camping in the open, fearful that another tremor will bring their roofs down about their heads.

The dome of the sacred tomb at Nablus, one of the most revered structures in the Holy Land, was cracked by the tremor. Many houses in this town collapsed, burying their occupants beneath its ruins.

The district shaken by the shock present a spectacle of desolation. Dozens of homes and edifices were leveled. The minaret of a new mosque at Amaan broke in two at its upper portion, crashing downward, and burying many beneath it.

PACIFIC FLIERS ENJOYING REST

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—Lieuts. Lester Maitland and Albert Hegenberger, who first flew to Hawaii from Continental United States, were resting today from the double-barreled welcome given them by Oakland and San Francisco. The army flyers returned to the mainland aboard the liner Maui yesterday.

While the aviators were uniformed of future plans, army officials here thought it likely they will leave tomorrow to visit President Coolidge at his summer lodge in the Black Hills.

ABANDONED CAR FOUND HERE, WAS STOLEN

Motorcycle Officer Augostine on Tuesday found a Star automobile, Ohio license 8-374 on Shenango St., where it had been abandoned early in the morning. An envelope found in it indicated that it was the property of Elmer Whitmore of 52½ North Main street, Sharon, Pa. The police of that city were called up and stated that the machine had been stolen there on Monday. It has been placed in a local garage pending the arrival of the owner.

Former New Castle Man Is Named President For Year

GOOD PROGRAM AT CONVENTION

Annual Convention of the Veterinarian's Club of Northwestern Pennsylvania was held at the home of Dr. Frederick Taylor, near Pulaski, on Tuesday. Members of the Veterinarian's Club of Southeastern Pennsylvania were also entertained at this convention.

Instead of a more formal business convention as is usually the case the veterinarians decided to make this convention an outing in which their wives and families could enter. So a picnic dinner was arranged on the lawn of Dr. Taylor's home where some 60 delegates to the convention and their families met in the shade of the large maple trees.

Inspect Farm

After the dinner an inspection of the fine Everglad Dairy farm owned by Dr. Taylor was made by the veterinarians. Dr. Taylor has a large herd of cows and one of the finest equipped dairies in this part of the state. He supplies the city of New Castle with milk certified by the Lawrence County Medical Society.

In the afternoon a program of several good speakers was presented the principal speaker being Pennsylvania State Veterinarians, Dr. T. E. Munce who came from Harrisburg for this convention. H. R. McCulloch, Farm Agent of Lawrence County gave a talk on the European Corn Borer and the fight against it. I. C. Raysor of the Standard Slag Company gave a talk on the use of of slag as a fertilizer for farm crops.

Election of officers of the organization for the coming year and the choice of the next place of meeting was taken up in the business meeting.

Waterford, Pa., will be the place of the next meeting of the Veterinarian Club of Northwestern Pennsylvania which will be held on October 11, 1927. Dr. E. E. Bittles of Waterford, formerly of New Castle, was elected president and secretary, Dr. P. M. Hendricks of Meadville being the permanent secretary.

All members present expect to attend the national convention of the

Bathing Beaches And Swimming Pools Populated With Sweltering Citizens

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 13.—Central Pennsylvania today took to its hundreds of beaches and swimming pools to escape a pall of stifling heat which hung over the region, causing one death and several prostrations.

In Harrisburg 14,000 persons crowded the municipal island beach in the Susquehanna river when the thermometer mounted to 91 degress, and reports from rivers and creeks throughout the district were that record crowds took advantage of cooling plunges to escape the oppressive heat.

Andrew Gebhart, 55, drowned in the Swatara creek, Hummellstown, a suburb, when he suffered a stroke of apoplexy while swimming.

Youth May Prove Star Witness In Gruesome Murders

Brooklyn Boy Tells Officers He Saw Man Stuff Bloody Bundle In Sewer

RIGID PROBE IS GOING FORWARD

Suspect Under Arrest For Slaying Of Two Elderly Women Remains Calm

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 13.—A fourteen-year-old boy loomed today as an important witness for the state in the investigation into the brutal murders of Miss Sarah Elizabeth Brownall, 70, and Mrs. Selma Bennett, 56, whose dismembered bodies were found in the cellar of a Brooklyn home.

The lad, Herbert Graf, of Brooklyn, went to police headquarters with his father, and volunteered the information that he had seen a "dark" man stuff a blood-soaked bundle into a sewer near his home. Police believe the bundle may have contained parts of the bodies of the two slain women.

Graf was to be taken to police headquarters some time today to face Ludwig Halverson Lee, former sailor, who is being held on a short affidavit charging him with murder. Detectives will attempt to determine whether Lee is the man Graf saw disposing of the gruesome package.

Arraigned in court as the culmination of a grilling extending over almost thirty-six hours, Lee pleaded not guilty to the murder charge and naively asked detectives when he would be allowed to go home. He has maintained his protestations of innocence, in spite of a merciless cross-examination conducted by one hundred detectives who are investigating the slayings. Lee was employed by Mrs. Brownall as janitor.

Pageant Tonight At Scout Camp

Unusual Program To Draw Large Crowd To Camp Phillips

INDIAN LEGENDS FEATURE PROGRAM

Indications are that there will be an immense crowd at Camp John M. Phillips, Boy Scout camp, tonight, when the first extensive pageant will be presented. The affair is scheduled to start at the sunset hour.

The pageant, "The Nations of The Skies Last Assault," is a presentation built around Indian legend and customs, interspersed with scouting activities. There are many scenes in the pageant which give particular opportunity for the scouts, and the pageant will be presented with enthusiasm.

The setting at Camp Phillips, likewise, will create an atmosphere that will allow the pageant to be presented most successfully.

Nicholas R. Cassillo, assistant camp director, has been putting the scouts through a rigorous period of training in preparation for the night's program, and is satisfied that the scouts will come through in splendid fashion.

BUTLER COURT TIPSTAVE ROBBED

BUTLER, Pa., July 13.—William Shouf, tipstave of the Butler county court, who arrived from an extended visit in Colorado yesterday, reports that he was held up and robbed in Superior street, Cleveland, last Saturday, when he lost $73 in cash and a gold watch. After two men had robbed Shouf one of them stunned him with a blow on the head with a pistol, and the men escaped before a policeman could be notified.

SCOTTDALE YOUTH DROWNED

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., July 13.—Finding of his clothes on the banks indicated the drowning of William Babura, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Babura of Scottdale, at Lake Forest, near Scottdale, last night. The body was found about noon today.

DEATH RECORD

Mrs. Frances Caroline Wetmore, 59 420 East Boyles avenue.

U. S. Commissioner Of Education Will Make Address Here

Dr. John J. Tigert, United States Commissioner of Education, will deliver an address in New Castle some time during the coming fall or winter, the New Castle school board having authorized Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent to make the necessary arrangements. Dr. Tigert has agreed to come upon a convenient date and will speak in the Scottish Rite Cathedral.

Compromise May Save Conference On Disarmament

Deadlock Seems To Lie Between Representatives Of Great Britain And Japan

UNITED STATES IS STANDING BY

British Scale Down Demands For Cruiser Tonnage Increase Over Present

(International News Service)

GENEVA, July 13.—The tripartite naval disarmament conference deadlock today seems to rest upon differences between Great Britain and Japan, with the United States standing by willing to accept any compromise that these two nations can arrange.

The two chief delegates of Great Britain, the United States and Japan were in secret session today conferring of the disputed points of cruiser tonnage and the size of cruiser guns.

Cuts Down Demands

Great Britain is understood to have scaled its demands down and is now ready to compromise on a limit of approximately 400,000 tons for cruisers, as compared with its original insistence that its cruiser needs were 600,000 tons. The British therefore have virtually worked around to the point where they are now proposing as a compromise the suggestion made by the United States delegates some days ago.

Japan, however, refuses to accept the British proposals declaring that such a high limit of cruiser tonnage would force her to build in order to have a fair proportion of cruiser. Japan is holding out for a limit of

Car Is Destroyed By Fire Tuesday

Explosion Occurs While Woman Is Taking Test As Driver

As a result of a rather unusual accident and also the lack of specific directions to the fire department called, resulted Tuesday afternoon in the almost complete destruction of the sedan car of Mrs. J. L. Ringer, of Ray street.

Mrs. Ringer was taking the test for a driver's license on Wallace avenue, under the supervision of a member of the state highway patrol, when the engine stalled. When the effort was made to start up the car, there was an explosion under the hood of the car and it then burst into flames.

The Park avenue department was notified and an alarm sounded from box 22. In telephoning in the alarm, the person doing so appeared to say both Moody and Wallace avenue. The streets are rather far apart, the Park avenue department started out to hunt the fire and by the time, it reached the actual scene, the car was practically destroyed.

While Mrs. Ringer and the state highway patrolman escaped injury, but Mrs. Ringer is reported to be suffering considerably from the shock.

MATTRESS AND BED CLOTHING DESTROYED

Mattress and bed clothing in a second floor bedroom of the J. Levine property, rear 1131 Moravia street, occupied by Theodore Wright, was destroyed in a fire of unknown origin about ten o'clock this morning. The loss was about $35. The firemen were called by an alarm from box 53 at 10 a. m.

SMOKE SCARE.

A still alarm this morning took Assistant Fire Chief H. Clare Stockman to the home of Dr. T. M. Shaffer on Lincoln avenue, to investigate a smok scare in the basement of the home. No fire was found.

FILLS JURY POST IN CAPITAL

Although woman grand jurors are not unusual throughout the country, Washington has just selected its first feminine grand juror, Miss Ruth McGee.

Public Schools Start September 7

Wednesday Is Fixed As Starting Day Instead Of Tuesday

VACATION PERIODS ARE ALSO FIXED

In the arranging of the school calendar for the year 1927-28, which was done on Tuesday night by the New Castle school board, several changes from other years are seen.

First of all, school will not start on the day following Labor Day, but will start on the Wednesday of that week, this year the date of opening coming on September 7. This is done to allow parents time enough to get home from Labor Day vacations without having to rush, and also will do away with the annual Labor Day conference of teachers, something which has been inconvenient to them.

Opening on September 7, 1927, the school term will run to Wednesday, June 6, 1928, barring any unusual occurrence which would extend the term. The first semester closes on Friday, January 27, 1928, and the second semester begins on Monday, Jan. 30, 1928.

There will be five vacation periods, varying in length. One day will be allowed for the students to attend the New Castle Fair, this date being in September, the exact date to be set later.

The Thanksgiving vacation will start Wednesday evening, Nov. 23, and last until the following Monday. The Christmas vacation will be from Friday, Dec. 23, to Monday, Jan. 3, inclusive. The Easter vacation will be from Friday evening, March 30, to Monday morning, April 9, inclusive. One day will be allowed for Memorial Day, this being Wednesday, May 30, 1928.

STOLEN AUTOMOBILE STRIPPED OF TIRES

J. U. Untch, of 108 South Jefferson street, reported to the police last night that his Chevrolet touring car had been stolen from in front of his home. It was found this morning at Balph avenue and Morris street. Officers Elder and Nelson investigated and found that the machine had been stripped of three tires and other parts.

Cattlemen Urge Coolidge To Aid Relief Measures

Farmers And Cattlemen Of Mid-West Assail Federal Government Policy

COOLIDGE GIVING ISSUE ATTENTION

Resentment General Against Big Packers For Low Cattle Prices Reviewed

By GEORGE E. DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

RAPID CITY, S. D., July 13.—Grievances of the agricultural West against the "capitalistic" East are cropping up in proximity to the summer White House as to embarrass President Coolidge somewhat.

"The federal government is being run for the benefit of the bankers of Wall street as against the farmers and cattlemen of the West."

That, in effect, is the cry which is being raised here now that the first glamour of entertaining a President for the summer has subsided.

Paul E. Martin, president of an infant association of cattlemen, just organized in an effort to force the packers to "pay a fair price" for beef on the hoof, is the first representative of western discontent to openly tell the executive of this resentment.

Cattleman Speaks

Calling at the temporary executive offices to plead the cause of the cattle raisers, Martin called attention to what he considered a concrete instance of official Washington favoring the moneyed interests to the detriment of the people of the West. He referred to the action of the banks just following the close of the war in demanding immediate liquidation of all cattle loans.

Our information", he said, "was that the order came from Washington through the Federal Reserve system. It seems to us that things are operated for Wall street to the exclusion of those who actually produce."

Resentment is general against the Chicago and Omaha packers. By citing the fact that certain directors of the packing companies likewise are directors in big New York banks and eastern insurance companies, the cattlemen justify their claim that "the East is running the West."

Martin, as one of their spokesmen, said:

"Seventy-five per cent of the cattle raisers have gone bankrupt because their stock went to the market on mortgage foreclosures."

Meanwhile President Coolidge is devoting considerable attention to the situation.

It is almost a certainty the question of relief for the cattlemen will be touched upon in definite form in his next message to Congress.

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., July 13.—They don't no more than stop Cal fishing with worms than he goes out with flies and catches even more.

If they stop him using flies why he is getting so western that he is just liable to pull out his .44 and shoot a flock of fish, or take down his old lariat and four-foot enough for dinner.

There is no stopping the man. He is a modern Roosevelt.

To Finger Print And Photograph County Prisoners

All Convicted In Courts Here To Be Recorded By State Police

Every person convicted of crime in Lawrence county will be finger printed and photographed in the future according to a communication received from Major Lynn G. Adams, head of the Pennsylvania state police by Sheriff H. M. Reynolds.

The communication is from the Bureau of Criminals and enclosed with the communication is a copy of a recent act by the Pennsylvania General Assembly providing for such procedure.

In the letter the sheriff is informed that after every term of criminal court a photographer of the state police will visit the sheriff's office and pursuant to the act, finger print and photograph every person who has been convicted of crime the records to be kept by the state police department.

In line with this policy Sheriff Reynolds will receive a copy of each finger print and photograph and will establish a "Rogues Gallery" in his office.

Through this means a state-wide check of criminals can be made and the prosecution of justice expedited it is expected

Splinter Causes Loss Of Sight

Frank W. Lang, Fairmont avenue, is in a serious condition in the Pittsburgh Pasavant hospital, where he is under observation after losing the sight of his right eye. While using a chisel to split some logs several weeks ago, a small splinter flew in his right eye, causing the loss of sight.

He was later taken to the hospital in Pittsburgh, where it may become necessary to remove the eye ball.

It isn't long till the time to leave, just a couple of days in fact, and I'm getting my collars, the both of them, and my other shirt all packed. Just a couple of days till we step on the gas, for points many miles away, and we won't be back for a couple of weeks, with nothing to do all day. That is nothing to do except golf and drive and drive and then golf some more, that's rather tough to consider, eh what, the weather is ninety-four.

Undue Restriction Warned Against At Conference

Fight To Last Ditch Against Unwise Alcohol Restrictions Is Promised

Alcohol Consumers Warn Against Drastic Regulations And Promise Resistance

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 13.—American business sounded a warning against undue restrictions in the use of industrial alcohol at the national prohibition administrators conference today.

A "fight to the last ditch" against proposed regulations which would hold manufacturers responsible for violations of the prohibition law by employes was promised by Henry S. Chatfield, of Elizabeth, N. J., representing the National Paint, Oil and Varnish Association.

"In these days when many prohibition agents themselves have gone wrong, no employer wants to be placed in a position where his permit is jeopardized or of being otherwise penalized for a violation of the law, attributable alone to the individual act of a crooked employe," Chatfield declared.

"Permittees must faithfully discharge their obligation to exercise due diligence, but certainly there is no reason why they should be compelled to accept standards that might be set up to government suspicious characters."

Regulations of this character must not be applied to reputable business men whose lawful operations must be promoted by the government in accordance with the law, according to Chatfield.

Banks Would Refuse Loans.

Banks would refuse loans to manufacturers whose permits are placed in jeopardy by "any such unwarranted conditions," Chatfield continued in making a plea for close cooperation between the new bureau of prohibition and legitimate trade associations.

"Future utilization of alcohol in commerce will be co-extensive with the progress of industrial chemistry," Chatfield said.

"Perfection of liquid motor fuels to supplement petroleum products are the subject of practical scientific research.

"Experts of world-wide authority say that denatured alcohol, in admixture with other compounds, will furnish the ideal future fuel for aircraft, the automobile and other internal combustion engines.

"Alcoholic fuels do not require a specially designed engine, the standard motors being used with excellent results. Advantages of alcoholic fuels over gasoline may be summarized as, more complete combustion, no pre-ignition or knocking, more uniform application of power, better control and greater mileage."

Chatfield warned the government not to lose sight of foreign competition in administering the laws. He pointed to the consolidation of German dye and chemical industries as a factor in offering stronger competition to American manufacturers subject to the Sherman anti-trust law.

"Care should be taken that nothing creeps into your departmental program which will give advantage to foreign concerns engaged in the production of competing commodities," Chatfield said.

Investigate Naming Democrat To Voting Board In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—Democratic city leaders today are investigating the record of Albert H. Ladner, who was appointed to one of the two Democratic vacancies in the city registration commission.

Ladner is alleged to have registered in 1924 and 1925 as a Republican but it is not known how he registered in 1926. The registration books for that year were seized and taken to Washington by Senator James A. Reed's senate investigating committee and are under lock and seal.

It was hinted here today Governor John S. Fisher would be questioned regarding the appointment.

all right, that he would as soon as he got his shoes on. In the meantime, Strayer got up on the fireman's side. He and Strayer "frisked" the negro for weapons but found none. In his opinion the negro must have had his gun inside the waistline of the front of his trousers.

Negro Starts Shooting.

Strayer had gone to the ground and the negro went down the left hand or fireman's side of the engine, face away from the engine. He hardly hit the ground, when he started to run. Strayer took a step toward him, pulling his gun. At almost the same instant, the negro, probably 12 feet away, pulled his gun and fired five times. Strayer never had an opportunity to fire his gun.

As Strayer fell forward, he called out "He got me" and Lowers ran to the opposite side of the engine cab, not having yet gone down, thinking the negro would pass around the other side of the engine in his getaway. He fired two shots at the fleeing negro as he saw him pass through some light, then continued the chase for a short distance. He then instructed Boak to take charge of Strayer, whom he found to be mortally wounded, then notified the authorities. He saw him later at the morgue. According to Lowers, Strayer died in about ten minutes. One of the shots went through his heart and another through a leg.

Harry E Boak, round house foreman, corroborated the story of Lowers, stating that he had gone along with the detective. He saw the officers frisk the negro. He saw the negro get off the engine and had his head out of the fireman's side of the engine when the negro started shooting. He heard Strayer say 'He got me", then drew in his head. He and others took charge of Strayer. Lowers fired two shots, he said.

C. F. Sewald told about the same story and about being on the engine when the shooting occurred. He had helped carry Strayer to the office and was holding his head when he expired.

Dan Richards told of being on the scene, having gone to the yards to inspect the electric lights of the engines. He told of the nature of Strayer's wounds and assisting in the care of Strayer after he was shot.

VETERINARIANS NAME BITTLES

American Veterinarian Medical association to be held at Philadelphia, Pa., September 13-17, at which a wonderful clinic is to be held.

Dr. William M. Wilson of Hartstown gave a very good talk and demonstration that was of great interest to all the veterinarians, especially the younger members of the profession. Mr. Raysor of the Standard Slag company demonstrated how slag which is about 50 per cent lime by being used in the dairy barn makes a very sanitary bedding for cows, almost entirely eliminating any offensive odors and then when placed on the land with the manure makes a fertilizer that is hard to equal.

Dr. Way and Miller and Dr. Munce led a very profitable discussion on the interstate regulations on the shipment of cattle.

Those Present

The veterinarians and members of their families who attended the convention were: Dr. T. E. Munce, State Veterinarian of the Department of Agriculture, Harrisburg, Pa.; Dr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Wilson, Hartstown, Pa.; Dr. M. C. Craig, Bureau of Animal Industry, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Dr. S. R. Craver, and Mrs. Nevin F. Rubber Company Stockholders To Meet Thursday

Additional Business In View As Rubber Company Stockholders Plan Meeting

(International News Service)

AKRON, O., July 13.—Additional business, the nature of which has not been made public, will be considered when stockholders of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company meet here again Thursday morning, it was announced today.

With the dismissal from Summit county court by Common Pleas Judge Kenfield of all Goodyear litigation, factional trouble is apparently ended and reorganization was completed Tuesday with the approval of major actions presented to stockholders.

The Union Trust Company, Cleveland, has been made trustee of first mortgage and deed of trust, securing the new $60,000,000 issue of five per cent bonds approved by the stockholders.

Satisfaction and cancellation of the 1921 mortgage, securing an eight per cent bond issue of $30,000,000 also was effected.

Announcement was made by P. W. Litchfield, president, that a Goodyear tire factory was to be established immediately at Wolverhampton, England. It will turn out approximately 2,000 tires and tubes per day, officials said.

Honeymoon Hikers Stopped By Cops

Cleveland Couple Held Here Because The Bride Is Dressed In Men's Clothing

What appeared to be two young men were meandering along the street when something about one of the young men made Joseph Knowles suspicious that one of them might be a young lady masquerading in men's clothing.

His suspicions were confirmed when he accosted them, and he immediately escorted them to the city police station. Here they produced a marriage certificate, showing that they had been married the day previous by Justice of Peace W. J. Zaul of Cleveland, O., district, sometimes known as the marrying justice.

The marriage certificate showed that the young man was Frank Pinkham of 7027 Lorain avenue, Cleveland, O., and that his wife had been Miss Lillian Rodecker of 6607 Colgate avenue, Cleveland, O. The young man stated that he had formerly resided here and was hunting friends.

The bride proved the best informant in connection with their honeymoon, and it developed that they were honeymooning by hiking and bumming their way here and there in a spirit of adventure.

According to the bride, they were just going along "as the spirit moved them". They had no special destination. Asked why she was traveling in men's clothing, she stated: "It's much easier to hike in trousers than skirts".

They had left Cleveland in a hurry, they said, not because their marriage was distasteful to their families, but because they wished to avoid the enthusiasm of their friends. They went to Akron and from there here. They were fortunate enough to secure a number of lifts.

Governor Fisher To Review State Troops In Camp

State Executive Will Turn Soldier For Day And Night

(International News Service)

MT. GRETNA, Pa., July 13.—Governor John S. Fisher, commander in chief of the Pennsylvania National Guard, will turn soldier for a day and a night tomorrow, when he formally reviews Pennsylvania's citizen soldiers in camp here.

According to plans announced by Maj. Gen. William G. Price, Jr., of Chester, in command of the encampment, the governor will review the troops, and bivouac here for the night.

Meantime despite the record heat the 4,000 rookies went through their regular drills to be in trim for the formal inspection, the engineers continued their field operations, and rifle practice was again the order of the day.

Governor Fisher will re-enact his days as an officer in the Indiana Company of the guard when he takes field mess with the men tomorrow. The troops are from Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Allegheny county, and parts of Fayette, Westmoreland and Washington counties, and are the first of three encampments, each lasting fifteen days.

California And Florida Battle For Convention

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., July 13.—With Los Angeles, Cal., and Miami, Fla., fighting tooth and nail for next year's grand lodge convention of Elks, delegates began the third day session here today with the Pacific coast city a likely victor. Los Angeles yesterday received 713 votes and Miami 538, but according to the rules of the convention, a majority vote, or 744 votes, is required, the 235 delegates who voted for Atlantic City, and the lone voter for Minneapolis, today are expected to throw their strength to either the California or the Florida city, with Los Angeles having a noticeable edge.

250,000 tons for cruisers for both the United States and Great Britain. This proposal is as acceptable to the United States as the British suggestion.

British Shift Blame

On the question of calibre of cruiser guns, Japan is definitely lined up against Great Britain. The British insist that only 10,000-ton cruisers may mount eight-inch guns and all others must mount six-inch guns. The Japanese supported by the Americans, demand that cruisers with tonnage as low as 7,000 tons shall mount eight-inch guns asserting that otherwise British merchant vessels might mount six-inch guns and give Great Britain a perpetual advantage.

The British delegates are reported to have suggested to British journalists that they stress in their dispatches "the American insistence upon an exorbitant number of 10,000 ton cruisers." Such a move would seem to indicate a British maneuver to attempt to shift the blame for the conference deadlock to the United States."

Boyd Candidate For Commissioner

Announces Candidacy For Democratic Party Nomination In September

CALVIN C. BOYD

To the Democratic Voters of Lawrence County:

I announce myself as a candidate for the office of county commissioner, to be voted for at the Democratic primary on September 20, 1927. I was born in Butler county and have resided in Lawrence county for 42 years. I reside and have been engaged in blacksmithing in Pulaski for 30 years, where I have been a justice of peace for the past 18 years. I realize the great responsibilities of the office of county commissioner and assure the electors of the county that if I should be nominated and elected I will discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability. The support and influence of the electors is respectfully solicited.

Yours truly,
CALVIN C. BOYD.

Asks Church Dues; Gets Sock In Eye

Tis Better To Give Than Receive So Julius Gives The Collector A "Shiner"

Onufre Weresuik, secretary of the Ukrainian church, corner Stanton and Rose avenues, found his duties rather strenuous last night, according to the story told the police, when he attempted to collect church dues somewhat past due from Julius Lesko while they were in the basement of the church.

Apparently according to Weresuik Lesko thought it easier to pay with his fists than with money and with the assistance of a friend proceeded to beat up the secretary.

When the officers arrived on the scene in answer to a call, they found Weresuik sporting a very badly damaged left eye and Lesko and his friend gone.

Weresuik was brought to the police station and a physician called, who repaired the damage done as best he could. Weresuik was advised by the police to make an information against Lesko.

Three Men Hit By Automobile

Young Womn Drives Car Into Trio Of Men At Work On Sidewalk

Three men engaged in making a sidewalk in front of a church on Miller avenue and Moravia stret last evening according to a report to the police, were injured when struck by the car of Fred Califato, driven by his daughter Mary Califato R. D. No. 7.

The men and their injuries were as follows: Andrew Lengyrl, 1603 Moravia street, elbow and right leg injured; Andy Lynz, 105 Charter street, left ankle injured and Steve Wanda, 1809 Moravia street, right leg and elbow injured.

According to Mary Califato she was driving north on Moravia street and making a turn onto Miller avenue. She was making a turn to the left when another car appeared in the way and to avoid a collision with it she turned to the right and hit the three men at the southeast corner of Miller avenue and Moravia street. Mr. Califato wanted to take them to a doctor but they declined. They were on a stand when the accident occurred. Officers Golis and M. J. Young answered the call made to the police.

Postal Men Will Likely Meet Here During Year 1929

State Convention Will Come To New Castle; Local Men Honored

At the sixth annual state convention of the National Federation of Postoffice Clerks, held at Hotel Bethlehem, Bethlehem, Pa., Monday, July 11, Thomas L. Donegan of New Castle was re-elected secretary and treasurer of the state organization and Clyde E. Stevens of the New Castle postoffice was re-elected organizer.

Mr. Donegan returned last night from the convention. Mr. Stevens, who planned to be present, was unable to attend on account of sickness in the family.

The meeting next year will be held at Reading, Pa., on the third Sunday of July.

Mr. Donegan said that the indications of having the convention come to New Castle were very great, as the members of the convention are anxious to come to the western part of the state. In 1929 it is quite likely that it can be secured for New Castle when hotel accommodations will be assured. It will most likely be at either Erie or New Castle, but Mr. Donegan said that he thought New Castle would receive the largest vote.

Among the resolutions adopted at the convention was one recommending optional retirement at the end of 30 years' service with a maximum retiring salary of $1,200; one recommending 45 minutes to be considered as an hour in the work of the night clerks; a salary increase to $2,000 as a minimum and $2,400 as a maximum, and the endorsement of the Kelly bill, which supports the policy of running the postoffice for service rather than profit, and reducing the amount of free matter by charging a certain rate on the enormous amount of free congressional reports, etc.

Monday afternoon was spent in a sightseeing tour of the city and Sayre Park on the top of a neighboring mountain. The banquet in the evening was attended by about 200.

Smith To Make Pacific Flight

(International News Service)

OAKLAND, Cal., July 13.—Ernie Smith, former airmail pilot, and Emory Bronte, navigator, will hop off at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning in an attempt to fly to Honolulu, William H. Royle, flight manager, made it known today. Several trial flights, one of which was to Santa Monica, 400 miles away, have already been made.

A final spin to test the plane's equipment will be taken today.

Smith was thwarted in his hope of racing the successful army flyers to Hawaii by a broken windshield on his plane and by the subsequent withdrawal of his original navigator, Capt. Charles Carter.

Deaths Of The Day

Howard Custer's Funeral.

The funeral services of the late Howard J. Custer will be held in the First Baptist church, Thursday, at 3:30 p. m. It will be conducted along military lines, the details of which have been worked out. There will be a firing squad from Company B, 125th Engineers, an armed escort to accompany the body from the home to the church, while the pallbearers will be members of the Pennsylvania railroad police. Burial will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Howard J. Custer Funeral.

Funeral services for the late Howard J. Custer of 12 South Front street will be conducted Thursday, July 14, at 3:30, daylight savings time, in the First Baptist church, East and North streets. Burial will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

J. F. McCann Funeral.

Funeral services for James F. McCann will be conducted Thursday, July 14 at 3 p. m. from his residence, 488 Neshannock avenue. Rev. Jesse B. Porter, pastor of Central Christian church will be in charge. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Mr. McCann was born in Titusville, Pa., March 28, 1876, a son of John and Nancy McCann. He had been a resident of New Castle for 27 years.

Besides his widow, Nora Rigby McCann of this city, to whom he was married 27 years ago, he leaves one son, John F. McCann, Jr., of New Castle and two brothers, Leo of Oklahoma, and Charles of Stoneboro and one sister, Mrs. Dill of Sharon.

Mrs. Frances C. Wetmore.

Mrs. Frances Caroline Wetmore, aged 59 years, wife of Arthur S. Wetmore, passed away at the family home, 420 East Boyles avenue, Tuesday evening, July 12 at 7:15.

Mrs. Wetmore's death was due to complications from which she had been suffering for about a year.

She was born at Hampton, New Brunswick, Canada on November 12, 1867. She had been a resident of New Castle for twenty six years and was one of the best known and highly esteemed women of the city.

Mrs. Wetmore was a faithful member of Trinity Episcopal church and previous to her illness had always taken an active part in all church work.

She is survived by her husband to whom she was married thirty seven years ago and the following children: Ivan A. and Guy L. Wetmore of Youngstown, O., Charles D. Wetmore, Mrs. G. E. Richardson and Miss Maude Wetmore of this city. She also leaves three brothers, William, John and James McManus and one sister, Mrs. J. H. Yoemans, all of New Brunswick, Canada.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday, July 14, at 9:30 a. m. from Trinity church. The rector, Rev. Philip C. Pearson will be in charge. On account of making the long trip to Hampton, New Brunswick, Canada where burial will be made the funeral is held at this early hour.

The funeral party will leave over the Pennsylvania lines at 12:45 for Hampton, Canada.

Time of Funeral.

Funeral services for Joseph Fazzone, son of James Fazzone of Long avenue will be held Thursday morning at 8:30 from St. Vitus church. Interment in St. Vitus cemetery.

Call Plenary Session Of Arms Parley Thursday

(International News Service)

GENEVA, July 13.—The deadlock in the tri-partite naval conference will have a public airing on Thursday.

A plenary session of the conference has been summoned to meet in the Hotel Des Burges at 3 o'clock.

Observers declare that the plenary session will not mark either the break up of the conference nor its successful conclusion. They state it has been arranged chiefly for the purpose of permitting the various delegations to expose their viewpoints and allay prevailing pessimism.

LADIES BIBLE CLASS HAS SPLENDID RECORD

Annual business meeting and social of the Y. L. B. class of the Third U. P. church was an event of Tuesday evening in the church.

The devotional period was led by Mrs. Iva Kennedy and the business meeting was presided over by Mrs. J. W. Rupert. Plans were made for the class to support a native missionary in India. A new complete attendance record was adopted.

A special feature of the meeting was the payment of $375 to be applied to the beautiful memorial window which has been placed in the new church. The cost of the window was $1300, that amount having been paid by this class.

Mrs. R. M. Eagleson presented a piano to be placed in the class room. The class voted to furnish the pastor's study in the church as a part of their next year's work.

A pleasing program followed the business meeting. Readings were given by Mrs. J. Albert Wilson, Mrs. G. C. Orr and Mrs. J. H. Kocher. Mrs. Griff Lewis sang a solo number and members of Section C presented a playlet. Refreshments were served in the dining room by Section 6. A picnic will be held some time in the near future.

Birthday Party

DANGER IN IMPURE WATER

IMPROVED highways and increasing automobile tourist traffic have imposed upon public health agencies the responsibility of providing pure water and placarding impure water along highway routes.

The American Automobile Association is assisting federal and state health officers in this work of disease prevention as a service to its thousands of members and as a gratuitous protection to other tourists.

One infected spring or stream of water near a main highway, tourist camp or park may scatter disease over many states as pointed out recently by Dr. W. L. Steen, New Castle health officer. Isolated cases of contagious and infectious diseases are constantly being traced to distant water sources.

The careful motorist will not drink indiscriminately from springs, wells and streams encountered along highways, but in nothing does the public exhibit greater recklessness than in its selection of drinking water. There seems to be a tendency to judge the purity of water by its clearness, taste and distance from inhabited buildings. Such fallacious reasoning makes the testing of water sources and the placarding of impure water essential to the public health.

Individuals have been known to resent the acts of health officers in posting and prohibiting contaminated water and to have ignored their warnings. To them it has never occurred that when they thus flirt with disease they may be the cause of transmitting the disease to others. It is almost inconveivable that a warning should not suffice at a polluted water source.

AMERICAN AVIATION COMING INTO ITS OWN

AIRPLANES were born in the United States. They promised great things, but a congress devoid of imagination took little interest in them. And so it was that in Europe they flourished, while in their native land they barely existed. The war developed air fighting. We entered that conflict with no preparation. Feverishly we started to build planes and motors. But they were for the Army and Navy. We were doing nothing commercially.

When peace was restored England, France and other nations conserved their air strength and added to it. Companies were started for freight and passenger service between cities. Governments granted subsidies. They realized that commercial planes would afford an always-ready army of trained aviators to be depended upon in a crisis. But here in the United States we lagged —as usual. Private capital was shy. It remained for the post office department to demonstrate what might be done. It inaugurated mail routes. It has expended sixteen millions in planes, equipment and the laying out of landing fields. The department of commerce has lighted routes, and has contracts out for further illumination covering a total of 2500 miles. In another year there will be over 6000 miles.

It has been the policy of the post office department to retire from active operation, and the fifteen routes which it created will all be in private hands by the end of this month. Some of them will carry passengers and goods. A tremendous impetus has been given to flying by the cross-sea adventures of Lindbergh, Chamberlin and Byrd, together with the splendid success of the San Francisco-Honolulu flight. For some days past a fleet of planes has been visiting various states and proving the safety of such transportation. All sorts of projects for long-distance flying are incubating. Secretary Hoover estimates that there are 5000 planes in the hands of private individuals today, and he reports that the interest, as attested by the numerous seekers after information, is remarkable.

It has taken a long time to get there, but at last the American plane is coming into its own. It is now certain that many lines running on regular schedules for the accommodation of passengers will be established. Given public support, there will be no end to them. All that is needed is confidence, and as a promoter of confidence Colonel Lindbergh has no equal.

Some persons who become wrapped in their own thoughts are provided with very thin covering.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:30. Sun rises tomorrow 4:40.

A Reno, Nev., divorce judge said: "When happiness leaves a marriage union this union is already destroyed and dissolved by a power higher than this court." Just the same, a court decision helps it along a lot.

A device that will bring an aeroplane to a stop within twice its own length has been perfected. If it can do this when the boat starts toward the earth it will be a great thing.

A Florida man rescued his father from drowning by using a fishing line and hook, making a cast of 100 feet and the hook caught on the old gent and the son pulled him to safety. That's what we call a working brain in the noodle of the son.

Yesterday when we arrived at our humble home we found a case of grapefruit sent to us by our old friend, Bert Stevenson of Porto Rico. We have a personal acquaintance with the trees on which this wonderful fruit grew, and it took us back to that island. This brand of fruit is called "Tropico" and it sure is fine. We never really tasted grapefruit until we got in touch with that grown in Porto Rico. Any company that comes to our house while it lasts is going to get a real treat.

Nothing works out perfectly. Twin beds became fashionable after twins went out.

Some days ago a pair of woman's legs were found in New York and the opinion was that they were off a young lady along about 20 years old. Later it developed that they may have been legs of a lady 40 or 60 years old. This goes to prove that there is no telling how old a set of legs are when there is nothing but the legs to go by.

Every time we go out on the road driving our bus we notice that more and more people have difficulty or something on staying on their side of the road. This is commonly and vulgarly called "hogging the road", and the title is about right. License to shoot a few of those yaps would be about right.

A lady who left this city some weeks ago for California has written back that she would not give a lot on Moravia street for the whole state of Kansas. That's a little rough on Kansas.

Some of the English statesmen are telling what they really think about America now and it is not very complimentary. America should fight its own battles and trim up at least two more foreign countries, or maybe three, and no doubt Germany would help along with the job.

You cannot knock everything all the time, even if you are right. You will have to go along with the other fellow occasionally if you ever expect to get anywhere. Lots of men do many things they would rather not do, just in order to go along and have harmony and co-operation.

Two Vanderbilts have already been granted divorces so far this year, and the third one is now applying for one. Riches do not bring marital happiness always, it seems.

One nice thing about that trip of Col. Lindbergh's across the Atlantic alone was that when he got over he did not have any companions to quarrel with him.

While an actress in New York was leaning out of a window waiting for her husband to come home, she fell out and was killed. The best way to wait for a husband who is out late at night is to go to bed and forget all about him until morning. If he wakes you up you can tell him then without waiting for morning.

When a lady at Bellaire, O., returned home from church on Sunday she found her husband dead. He had eaten two breakfasts and died of indigestion. This ought to make a lot of women take their husbands to church with them for fear something will happen to them.

An Ohio farmhand is suing a farmer because the farmer only gave him seven dollars for two weeks' work when he expected fourteen dollars. There is going to be a lot of trouble before things get like they were before the war, especially on the farms.

Another Ohio farmhand worked eight years without getting any pay, and is now suing the farmer for the $25 a month it was agreed he should be paid. If the farmer charges him for board and room that farmhand will still owe the farmer a lot of money.

A noted musician, the leader of a symphony orchestra, took poison and killed himself and the woman who identified the body would not tell her name. Right away all interest would leave the poor musician and the thought would be: "Who is the woman?"

HELPFUL NEWS

Advertising certainly brings out the fine points. Take yeast, for instance, which has been receiving more advertising than ever before. Few people knew before now that yeast is a plant and is grown somewhat like a farmer grows vegetables; the difference being that yeast is planted in liquid instead of in soil.

Yeasts, so we are told, are so small that 600 of them could lie on the point of a pin. Some billions of them are concentrated in the familiar little cake sold by grocers and others for baking and for eating. And, best of all, they are good for our health. So, here's another illustration of the fact that advertising is helpful news.

Little Johnnie Doe, six years old, likes to play big man and recite for little playfellows the verses his father recites to him when telling him what a model boy he (the father) was when he went to school. Following is the latest thing in verse that the tot has attempted from memory:

"Strike 'til the last darn for expires!
Strike for your halters and your flier;
Strike for the green grapes off your spires!
God and your naked land."

HOW TO TIE A KNOT

"Philander", says a pretty girl to her bashful beau, "I wish you'd tie this ribbon at my throat. I can't see how to do it without a glass." "Of course, I'll only be too glad to", he said, and at once grappled the strings. After an unsuccessful effort of five minutes during which he got as red as a brick house and perspired like a pitcher of ice water on a July windowsill, he stammered: I—I don't think I can tie a respectable knot, Miss Mary". "Suppose, Philander", she whispered, with a pretty little blush, "suppose you call in a preacher to assist". Like the unveiling of a beautiful mystery the situation unfolded itself to Philander, and he feels better now.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

A rich plumber, who has passed away, reported to his satanic majesty and was assigned to install a new hot water system.

"All right", answered the plumber. "Give me a helper and I'll start in."

"Oh, but you have to do the work here yourself", chuckled Old Nick. "That's the hell of it."

The poor unmarried woman who was used to looking under the bed at night made a sad mistake when she started that on the train. She had an upper berth and she almost got herself in trouble.

Instead of asking the people to stop making fun of Congress the real solution would be to stop sending so many funny personalities to Congress.

John D. Rockefeller has passed his 88th birthday and he has again taken up the habit of going to church. Maybe the two are connected some way. Anyhow, it would make us go to church if we were as rich as John D. and as ' as he is.

The third member of the Vanderbilts this year is seeking a divorce. The family lawyer in that case almost has a steady job.

The Dominion of Canada celebrated its 60th birthday anniversary a few days ago. No one knows better than the border states of the United States what a fine neighbor Canada is. We can get from Canada the stuff we want that we cannot get in the United States and they are very willing to take our money.

It is Ohio that now claims a man who hasn't bathed in 17 years. That Ohio claims this man is the worst thing that has been said of Ohio in a good many years.

By making the President wait for his dinner, Mrs. Coolidge demonstrated once more that, after all, the Coolidges are just another American family.

The only thing the bathing resort folders and pictures don't show is a graceful way of crawling over the stones to get to the water.

The Philippines need freedom, all right. Over there a chap was arrested and jailed because he took a nasty verbal fling at one of the island sultans. In this free country we can razz the governor or President and get elected to office for doing it.

Eat More Mutton.
Miss Fanny Is Wrong.
Drys Too Hopeful.
Tolstoi's Views.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

Chicago's campaign to increase the consumption of beef is useful. Human beings need meat, as a time-saving proposition.

Millions of year of frost and rain grind up rock; earthworms prepare soil; grass grows; cows eat it; men eat the cows and get in half an hour the benefit of work done by the cows, worms and nature.

* * *

There ought to be another campaign to encourage the use of mutton. For all but the strongest men mutton is better food than beef. For children, especially, mutton is better, being a less "nervous" food.

* * *

Miss Fanny Hurst, like all geniuses, needs advertising and should have it. She says woman suffrage is a failure women are indifferent to politics, slaves of vanity, the lipstick and the beauty parlor. "Sisters, we have not come through as a class, as a mass, or a sex," says Miss Fanny.

* * *

She is mistaken. She notices the lipstick ladies because they are so red and conspicuous. She doesn't know that woman suffrage has caused politicians to ask "what do the women want, who do the children need?"

Woman suffrage wasn't expected to do anything more.

* * *

Ardent drys suggest that President Coolidge, an out-and-out, actual, not imitation teetotaler, could stop bootlegging if he wanted to, an amusing suggestion.

* * *

Raymond G. Carroll reports scores of stills in the Black Hills, "hidden within five miles of President Coolidge's lodge." Hundreds of thousands of stills are scattered all over the United States, and one city, New York, has 20,000 or more speakeasies.

How could President Coolidge "clean up" that kind of bootleg situation?

* * *

Turkey puts on trial a handsome young woman accused of "attacking religion." The lady, a writer, says in her latest novel, "religion is more harmful than opium, all prophets are charlatans."

When Turkish "freedom" is older this young woman and others will know that such attacks are foolish, and the Turkish government will know that the wise thing to do is to let people read, write talk and think and choose, as long as individuals are not attacked.

* * *

Tolstoi, son of a great man who was usually wrong, is wrong twice in one interview, but wrong in an interesting way.

The real Tolstoi preached non-resistance, which never gets you anywhere. His son, Count Leo, says flying from Europe to America, east to west, will never be a success, because the earth moves the other way, from west to east. Which is nonsense.

* * *

His other statement, that men will live to be centuries old, is also mistaken guessing. Death, at frequent intervals, is necessary, as it is necessary to wipe a slate, often, that something new may be written.

* * *

Men, undoubtedly, will live to about ten times the age of reproduction, as other animals do, which would make one hundred and forty an average age for men living wisely.

That will be about the limit. If men come back, they should be glad to be made young again, by a better method than Voronoff's If they go to stay, they should be glad to go, when the brain has become incapable of original thought.

* * *

Sixteen "habitual" criminals have been sentenced to life imprisonment in New York state under the Baumes law, and four "life candidates" await sentence. One "lifer," William Feuer, was sentenced as a "fence," buying stolen goods from criminals. If all "fences" were sentenced to life imprisonment, on their first conviction, crime would drop 75 per cent. Why not try it?

Sentence Sermons

By Rev. Roy D. Smith, D. D.

WE MUST INSIST—

That good people go to the polls if we want good men to go into office.
Upon fewer prodigal parents if we have too many prodigal sons.
That no man can make life out of things, but out of ideals.
Upon more of the vital things of life if we want more people to go to church.
That Sunday be a day of re-creation, not of recreation.
Upon colleges remaining educational institutions, not social clubs.
That school teachers be paid as much as machine tenders.

Bible Thought For Today

THE EYE OF THE LORD:—Behold the eye of the Lord is upon them that fear him, upon them that hope in his mercy; To deliver their soul from death, and to keep them alive in famine. Psalm 33:18, 19.

PRAYER:—Thou, God, seest me; bring deliverance as Thou didst to Hagar.

Jest as soon as a feller gits famous his old school teacher pushes his way thro' th' crowd t' announce that he didn't know nothin' when he went t' school. Some girls think so much o' ther fellers that it takes a telephone pole t' jar 'em loose.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

THE RIGHT KIND OF STUDENTS

Some students at Princeton the other day volunteered to spend their summer vacations working on the broken levee of the Mississippi River.

They are willing to do manual labor as well as engineering tasks. President Hibben suggested that they write to Secretary of War Davis and offer to organize a relief corps.

This illustrates several things.

We are accustomed to thinking that the laboring men, that is, the men who work with their hands only, are the backbone of the country. This shows that men who labor with their brains also can do manual labor, if necessary, and are willing to do it, whereas the hand worker could not do mental work if he tried.

The brain workers, therefore, is the most indispensable man. He not only does his own job of brain work, but he can do all the other jobs beneath him. He can sit at the desk and sign papers or he can also run an elevator, sweep the floors and clean the spittoons, if he has to. The elevator boy, on the contrary, could not do the other man's desk work.

The incident casts a refreshing light upon the temper of the modern boy, in fact, upon the temper of all youth.

Youth likes to be of use. One thing that lures many boys away into business life before they have finished school is their desire to be useful.

The greatest problem in child training is not to yell "don't" constantly at your children, but to show them how to put their activities to some good use.

Everybody, in the last analysis, will be found to love to serve.

People are not wholly selfish and every man isn't born wicked, but the beauty of humanity is that it has the spirit of sympathy and helpfulness in it and it does not take much to cause that spark to appear. Much of the sin of youth is simply due to undirected energy. It is the slopping over of superfluous power. When an occasion arises, however, in which this power can be directed into valuable channels, youth is ready with its response.

The young people of today are no worse off than the young people of yesterday, and the standing marvel is how young people who were so bad yesterday can be so good as old people today. On the contrary, the young people are better. They are more serious-minded and are more willing to help than were their predecessors, and the world is steadily improving.

The superfluous thinker can find many instances to disprove this, but more mature reflection and the riper experience helps us to see that this world is steadily swinging forward into the light.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A GOULD STORY

With Stock Exchange Seats selling for more than $200,000, it is interesting to read the story printed by "H. A." in the Wall Street Journal concerning the purchase of a Seat back in the days of Jay Gould:

"One of the sons of Jay Gould, finding in his Christmas stocking a gift from Papa of a "10,000" banknote —such pleasant attentions being a Gould habit—thrilled the family breakfast with the announcement that he was going to buy a Stock Exchange Seat. He was soon to have his 21st birthday; and his trio of brothers became exclamatory over his decision, indicative, they took it, of the youth's plan for a stock broker's career.

"Thought you were for railroading!" was the table round chorus. "Dad always said so."

"And he's right", possessor of the pretty government picture assented. "I am not going for a job, but for an investment."

"Don't you think that a couple of hundred Wabash might be better?" attending father suggested. "Wabash is only 50. One of these days . . . ."

"One of these days," lad caught up the phrase as new custodian of real money might naturally, independently catch—"one of these days one seat on the Stock Exchange will be worth more than 200 Wabash—twice that many, maybe."

Such hetrodoxy brought whistles from all around. Only Jay Gould, smiling in benevolent paternity, said in his classic half-whisper:

"All right, boy, your money is your money. Lose it your own way!"

"Without the family help!" chirped in elder brother George.

Before another Christmas came Stock Exchange seats were down from $10,000 to $5,000. Half of the independently handled gift evaporated. Meanwhile, too, Wabash had been achieving a few things—a Receivership included. At $1 a share 200 shares, which had been worth his $10,000, would bring, less commission, nearly $200.

At today's quotation a New York Stock Exchange seat equals what would that year have paid twice over for 100,000 of the Wabash that Papa tipped."

THE FATHER'S CHANCE

Bound to a minor post he semed
Although of greatness oft he dreamed
Time, the strange master of us all
His name was never heard to call
And so to him there never came
An opportunity for fame.

The need for wages held him fast
To be a toiler in life's cast.
He married, and more strongly tied
To duty, dreams were thrust aside
And for himself he came to see
Greatness perhaps would never be.

Brave at his hopeless post he stayed,
Seeing his fortune never made;
Seeing his glory never won;
Doing the tasks which must be done;
Taking what pleasures he could claim,
And then one day the baby came!

"Twas for me," this father said.
"Long since my dreams of fame have fled.
Life's splendors all have passed me by,
Yet here another chance have I.
My dreams of fame may all come true
In what this son of mine shall do."

In Day's News

David F. Houston, who has been elected president of one of America's largest life insurance companies has had a varied and sucessful career as a foundation for his new position. During the Wilson administration he was Secretary of Agriculture from 1913 to 1920 when he became Secretary of the Treasury and chairman of the Federal Reserve and Farm Loan boards filling these positions until 1921. He was regarded as one of the decided "finds" of President Wilson when he made his first cabinet. Previous to going to Washington Mr. Houston had made a wide reputation as an educator, having served as president of the University of Texas and chancellor of Washington University. He has a disciplined mentality, able to turn readily to the facing of new and large problems. Moreover he knows how to assemble about him high-grade experts.

RANDOM REMARKS

Efficiency is said to have made great headway in our postal service. I am sure that the service is better, in many ways, than it was a generation ago. Giving the employes their Sundays has been beneficial. Non-delivery of mail on the chief holidays, too, is a good idea.

But there is one place where efficiency has pinched the service, I am sure. It is best illustrated by an instance. Recently I sent a letter to "Frederick L. Blair, Beacon street, Boston, Mass." The letter was returned with the notation "Not found." Mr. Blair is a prominent citizen of Boston, and his name and address are found in the proper place in the Boston telephone director. A glance at the directory would have found the street number, but I had no directory at hand. I had to write to a Boston friend, who found the address for me. Then I sent the letter to exactly the same address, with the street number, 1008, added, and the letter was delivered.

This is not an isolated experience, but fairly typical of many. In the days before efficiency hit the post-office so hard, employes were allowed to search the directories for street numbers. It was the pride and boast of the service that badly addressed letters were delivered to the addresses as well as well-addressed letters.

Of course it saves time in the posta service to have letters accurately addressed. But there are millions of cases of persons who want to write to someone whose exact street address is not obtianable. It is reasonable to expect that the postoffice department will render some assistance in such cases. I think the efficiency of the postal service is vastly diminished by strict refusal to deliver letters properly addressed to prominent citizens, with the exception of house numbers.

"Beethoven, The Man," is one of the most entertaining biographies I have read recently. It is by Andre de Hevesy. One is moved to pity by the story of the great composer's poverty and financial embarrassments during the writing of one of his greatest works.

Beethoven composed some of the best music that human ear has heard. He did it while worried by insistent creditors, tormented by petty persons who envied or despised his genius, and racked by all manner of disease, including serious eye trouble. In his home town, Beethoven was quite generally looked upon as a conceited, crazy man, of no importance.

Half Million Attend Funeral

Burial Ceremony For Slain Vice President Of Irish Free State Occurs

THOUSANDS UNABLE TO ENTER CHURCH

(International News Service)

DUBLIN, July 13.—With bowed heads half a million people gathered today for the funeral of Kevin O'Higgins, assassinated vice president of the Irish Free State, while all Dublin was hushed with an impressive silence.

Only a small portion of those seeking entrance were able to crowd into St. Andrews church for the funeral ceremonies conducted by the Catholic archbishop of Dublin.

Cabinet members, dail deputies, judges, diplomatic representatives and leading Irish citizens filled the pews of the church for the impressive services.

Outside the church thousands stood in silence, many women weeping softly.

The funeral cortege moved from the church to Glasnevin cemetery—resting place of many of Ireland's great patriots of days past—with only the dirge of military bands and the tread of marching feet breaking the silence.

On a gun-carriage, the casket containing the body of O'Higgins was draped with the Irish flag. Trim Irish soldiery marched beside it while the honorary bearers followed.

Vice Crusader Was Paid To Leave City, Marshall Asserts

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 13.—The charge that William L. King, vice-crusader here and former Iowa legislator, was paid $22,500 to leave Pittsburgh and cease his activities here by "Jakie" Klein, alleged gambler and underworld character, was contained in a statement issued today by Rody P. Marshall, Klein's attorney.

King disappeared mysteriously from his quarters here last month, and was located in Des Moines, Ia., where he charged he left Pittsburgh to thwart an alleged blackmail plot.

Scranton Man Is Killed, Falls Into High Voltage Wire

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, July 13.—James McGoldrick, 30, was killed and Paul Summers, 30, was probably fatally injured when both plunged from a tree-top where they were at work today after McGoldrick's body came in contact with a charged electric wire.

The men were trimming the tree when McGoldrick's body touched the wire. He plunged downward, striking Summers. Both sustained fractured skulls, McGoldrick died shortly after the accident, while Summers was taken to a hospital in a dying condition.

Labor Commission To Investigate Economic Conditions In Russia

"Unofficial" Survey Of Industrial, Social And Economic Conditions Planned

Ten Prominent Trade Unionists Will Comprise American Junket

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 13—American labor is going to investigate Soviet Russia "unofficially".

Announcement was made here today that a labor commission of ten prominent trades unionists, assisted by a large force of economists, has been formed to make a survey of Russian industrial, social and economic conditions. They plan to sail the last of this month.

The trades unionists are headed by L. E. Sheppard, head of the railway conductors, and includes: William H. Johnston, president of the machinists union; E. J. Manion, president of the railroad telegraphers; Phil E. Ziegler, editor of "The Railway Clerk"; John Brophy, united mine workers; Frank Palmer, editor "Colorado Labor Advocate"; William Mitch, secretary of the united mine workers of Indiana; Albert F. Coyle, editor, "Locomotive Engineers Journal", and James W. Fitzpatrick, president of the American Artists' and Actors' federation. The economist section will be headed by W. Jett Lauck and Prof. Jerome Davis of Yale university. Prof. H. Douglas and Frank P. Walsh may also go.

Twenty thousand dollars will be needed to defray the expenses of the junket, and to publish the report which the commission will render upon its return. It is to be raised by public subscription.

Nine Month Infant Hurt In Auto Crash

William Graham, aged 9 months, of R. D. 5, sustained slight cuts on the head last night, when the car of his parents, collided with the machine of Harry Samuels, Little Falls, N. Y., parked in front of 805 Highland avenue, while being driven on Highland avenue, near Moody avenue. The little child was taken to the Shenango Valley hospital where its injuries were dressed and was then taken home. When the cars came together, the little baby and the mother were thrown out to the pavement, when the door of the car swung open. The mother was also slightly injured.

Lowers Says Pate Not Strayer Slayer

Fails To Identify Negro Shot And Killed By Detectives At Youngstown

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 13.—Robert Pate, who was fatally wounded Sunday night in a gun battle with B. & O. detectives, was not the man who murdered B. & O. Detective U. L. Strayer at New Castle last Friday morning.

This was established when Detective Lowers of the B. & O., who was with Strayer when he was killed, and another man from New Castle, viewed the body at Emerson's mortuary.

All B. & O. sleuths as well as those of other roads, are at work trying to solve the murder of their brother officer.

Reed Committee To File Appeal

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 13—The setback received by the James A. Reed investigating committee yesterday when Judge Thompson of the U. S. district court refused to grant permission for the seizure of Delaware county ballots was forecast by political observers here today to lead immediately to the filing of a petition for an injunction to prevent destruction of the ballots.

It is also expected an appeal will be filed with the U. S. appellate court from the decision.

Word from Washington indicated the other members of the senate committee were awaiting the arrival of Senator Reed before taking any action.

It was reported here, however, that William B. Wilson will attempt to secure an injunction against destruction of the ballots in Delaware, Lackawanna, Luzerne and Schuylkill counties which he asked be investigated in his contest of the election of William S. Vare as U. S. senator.

Asks Receiver For Klan Organization, Funds Are Mystery

Says Funds Collected By Klan In Pennsylvania Never Accounted For

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 13.—Claiming that the Ku Klux Klan collected $15,000,000 in Pennsylvania in the last seven years without ever accounting for it, five reputed members of the organization today asked U. S. district court here to appoint a receiver for the klan in this state and to compel an accounting.

The plaintiffs, Rev. J. S. Strayer, a state legislator of Latrobe; Dr. Charles Hunter, North Bessemer; Dr. Charles Oyer, Wilkinsburg; W. C. Davis, Manor, and Van A. Barrickman, Pittsburgh attorney, were named last week in a suit filed by the klan seeking damages and accusing the defendants of attempting to injure the klan.

Their retaliatory action took the form of a counter petition to the one that klan filed. They charged that funds were misused to "unduly enrich the klan's promoters and to spread the spirit of disrespect of government, law and order."

Dr. J. V. Flaherty Writes Of Apache Trail Trip And Southwest Scenes

THE APACHE TRAIL
July 6, 1927.

Editor News,
New Castle, Pa.,
Dear Sir:

Just before we left New Castle I noticed in the News you asked for letters from those away from home. We have been enroute a week going direct to El Paso, spending a day there. We found it a city of some peculiarities. There is a wonderful mileage of paved streets and not a frame building in the city limits. We were driven up over the mountain drive to an elevation of over 700 feet above the city where we could view the city and whole valley; also far over into Old Mexico. We spent some time across the border and our next stop was Bowie, Arizona, where we boarded a local train for Globe, Arizona.

About 38 years ago Globe was my Post Office for two years. Then it had no railroad, passengers leaving the Southern Pacific at Casa Grande and thence by buckboard stage via Florence to Globe. The railroad leaving Bowie runs for a great distance through the San Carlos Indian Reservation at San Carlos. The Apaches were getting tuned up for the 4th. We arrived at Globe, quite a different place than when I last saw it. At that time there was no school except a two-room adobe building, a town of one narrow street; no churches, only Missions, and every other building a saloon and gambling house,—not even a hotel. Now all is changed to a modern city of nine thousand people, all streets finely paved, a good water and sewer system, a fine fire department; gas, electricity, fine churches, fine hotels, large schools and a high school that would be a credit to any city of any size. We awakened on the 4th. It seemed the quietest day we ever spent on the 4th. The city had an Ordinance forbidding the sale or use of any fireworks of any kind and we never heard even a fire cracker all day. Then in the evening the whole city enjoyed an extensive display of fireworks furnished by the city as a whole, and set off from a high hill way above Globe where from the hills of the city it was a very spectacular display of over an hour's duration and enjoyed by the whole population. It was the only time I ever have seen a 4th of July Ordinance fully enforced.

We had planned to go to Phoenix overland via the Apache Trail but found it had been closed for two weeks, due to the building of another dam in the Salt River Valley for irrigation purposes. Two miles of the Trail has been flooded with several feet of water. They are building that portion of the Trail higher up but it will be some time before completion. We were informed that the Trail would be opened this morning with an innovation in that portion covered by water, passengers would be transferred by motor boat to another bus four miles below. One must travel over the trail to appreciate its wonders, some of the most scenic views to be found anywhere.

We left Globe about 11 a. m., passing over a wonderful highway through Miami—with Inspiration copper mines nearby—wonderfully colored rocks and mountains on all siles. The road being mostly cut out of the solid rock, many sharp curves back and forth are necessary to either obtain elevation or a drop. As we approached Salt River many varieties of Cactus were seen, the prickly pear being most in evidence. As we descended into Salt River Valley, as we proceeded many other cacti were seen all along the route, the giant Sahuaro the needles of which can be used for phonograph needles. One specimen we passed was 65 feet high and had 23 branches.

The Ocotillo, or candle wood, now full of red bloom; the chollo, with detachable burs which penetrate even leather shoes or boot; the Barrell cactus from which candy is made; the greare wood, many growths of the Magery cacuta and century plant are much in evidence at different points, and the ever present mesquite brush covers a much barren waste at this time of year. Few of the cactus are now in bloom, but earlier they are a riot of color, in flowers of white, yellow, amethyst, orange and flaming red.

A large white strata on top of the Sierra Andra Mountains attracted our attention and proved to be waste from a large Asbestos mine.

At the Lodge we spent about 15 minutes, where we had an excellent view of the Lake and Dam, and saw the remains of the burned plane of the Italian flyer, De Pinedo, where I believe he alighted on the lake and in transferring gasoline a can was emptied on the water and a lighted cigarette fired it and made a lake of fire. The Roosevelt Dam is a wonderful piece of engineering damming the water back and forming a lake 30 miles long and four miles wide; and two other lakes, Apache, 14 miles long and Canyon 12½ miles long; this last one was made by a dam across Mormon Flats and was the one that covered the old trail last month across the top of Roosevelt. There is a cement road with plenty of width for two autos to pass. We were driven over the Lodge, now closed until the Fall Seasnn. We made numerous stops to get pictures and arrived at Fish Creek where we rested a short time, then went over a trail that led up an elevation of over 1200 feet in less than one and one-half miles. We had several thrills but the coaches on the White Trucks met all difficulties under the careful management of a skillful driver. The motor boat trip down Salt River of two miles was an innovation inasmuch as our party was the first to use the launch as part of the trail. They will continue to convey passengers this way until the new road is completed.

One peculiarity of trip was that while we were from New Castle all the rest of our party proved to be from the eastern end of the State. After a most thrilling mountain ride, passing Castle Rock, Signal Mountain, Old Woman's Shoe, Arrow Head Mountain, Superstition Mountain, which figures in many Indian legends that it was the Mt. Ararat of a great flood they had years ago, the top of which Indians say was high water mark, about 6 p. m. we left the mountains and travelled about 12 miles of desert farming land, then came to the first irrigation ditch and the Arizona cotton fields and from there through Mesa and Tempe over wide paved streets which brought us to Phoenix where we found the first warm weather of our trip. I left an order for the N. C. News to be sent to my Los Angeles address and so expect quite a few copies to await us when we arrive.

As usual I have no hat along and one of my greatest troubles is with the Pullman Porters; they cannot brush my hat when I tell them it is back in New Castle, Pa. They usually say "how come."

Sincerely,
DR. J. V. FLAHERTY.

(Tell The News editor about your trip).

Millions now avoid perspiration odor this simple, easy way—Lifebuoy! A delightful toilet soap so refreshing that it's a joy to bathe with it every day. It purifies pores all over the body—gives lasting freedom from perspiration odor—keeps you fresh even in hottest weather or after hard exercise.

Keeps complexions healthy, too

Lifebuoy's mild, antiseptic lather not only purifies body pores — it purifies face pores, too, keeping complexions clear, fresh and glowing with health.

Better still, this same purifying lather helps protect against sickness—by removing germs from hands, as well as dirt. Yet it's so wonderfully gentle and soothing that your skin will love it.

Its very scent reassures

Lifebuoy is so different from other toilet and bath soaps that even its scent is different. Not a perfume, but a clean, hygienic scent which tells you Lifebuoy gives greater protection.

Even before you've finished your first cake, you'll learn to like this cleanest of all soap scents, which quickly evaporates after rinsing.

Without its antiseptic, Lifebuoy would still be a wonderful toilet soap—but you wouldn't get the same measure of protection.

Extra protection—free

Lifebuoy assures greater health protection and freedom from perspiration odor—yet costs no more, probably less, than the toilet soap you now use. Lifebuoy is orange-red, a big generous cake. You can get it wherever soap is sold.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

One hundred fifty-one years ago, fifty-six men with vision affixed their signatures to a famous document in the shadow of the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia. It was a country's declaration of independence.

Today thousands of other men with vision are affixing signatures to documents that are also declarations of independence. They are applications for Old Age Endowment Insurance—insurance that is planned to mature in those autumn days of life when the average man can't be independent unless a life insurance income makes him so.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

JUST SUPPOSING

Mrs. Beaver climbed out of the water and, seating herself upon the bank, stared at Peter without saying a single word. She seemed to be thinking very hard. She was quiet so long the boy grew curious.

"Why are you looking at me like that?" asked he. "Surely you are not still worrying for fear I am going to hurt you, Mrs. Beaver!"

"I am not worrying at all, I am just supposing!" declared the lady.

"Supposing! Supposing what?" Peter was determined to know what was making Mrs. Beaver smile so broadly, and if he hadn't been very careful, indeed, he would have laughed in her face, for, with her split lip, she looked exactly as though she were making a face at him. B. Z. gazed at his wife in surprise.

"I was just supposing that all the terrible two-legs were as tiny as you are and we Beavers were setting traps for them," chuckled Mrs. Beaver. "What fun it would be! We would sneak up in the darkness and scoop out a hole in the ground, plaster it with mud so you couldn't dig your way out, cover it with sticks, drop a loose stone here and there, and roof it with leaves and grass. You would come strolling along, never noticing it at all, or, if you did, you would think it was only a little brush heap that the wind has blown together. You would step upon it. Crack! In would fall the make-believe roof! Ker plump!

"Down to the bottom of the pit you would drop, and we should have you in a trap. Two-legs in a Beaver's trap! What great good luck!"

"And there you would stay all day, hungry and frightened and gasping for air, and at night when we came to get you, you would be too weak to fight us much and we should have no trouble at all in dragging you into the water and through the waves to our wigwam.

"Then we would strip you of your nice white skin, maybe. I think it would make a nice cover for the babies' bed when the winter nights are chilliest, and I am not sure what we would do with the rest of you, for we don't like meat but we Beavers would—"

"Don't tell me any more, Mrs. Beaver, please don't," begged the boy. "I suppose you are trying to tease me, but it makes me shiver."

"Oh, it does, does it?" snapped the lady. "Nothing like that has ever happened to the two-legs and it probably never will, but did you ever happen to think that such a fate as I've just been telling you about is a common occurrence in the Beaver family? It doesn't do us any good to 'shiver all over' every time we think about it.

"My poor, dear mother was caught in a trap and carried off to be robbed of her beautiful fur. I saw her quiver, heard her cries for help as she lay all day in that dreadful trap—and I couldn't aid her."

Next: "A Vanishing Tribe."

THEY KNEW STYLE

NEW YORK, July 13—Customs inspectors John McAdams and William Mangan are priding themselves that they know style when they see it. Their work in checking up the returning tourists from Europe has enabled them to keep in touch with the latest in fashion and when they see radical changes in women's wear they know something's up. Consequently when they saw two women with long flaring skirts, come from pier 57, North river, they thought that something had happened in Paris. An investigation revealed that the skirts covered novel petticoats containing pockets in which were stored bottles of the finest of French brandies.

Fiction Books Lead In Summer Demand At Public Library

meeting of the library board was id last night at the city library. At this meeting Miss Alice M. Sterling, librarian, presented her report for the month of June. Several other things were discussed also. The librarian's report follows:

Books added to the library by purchase, 46; by gift, 135; total, 181. Books discarded, 191; new borrowers, 136; new adult borrowers, 45; new juvenile borrowers, 91; total borowers, 10,774.

Circulation of books for the month of June, 7,520; adult fiction, 3,591; adult non-fiction, 763; foreign, 6; juvenile fiction, 2,294; juvenile non-fiction, 866; total juvenile circulation, 3,160.

Books catalogued, 124; reading room attendance, 1,776.

Branch circulation, Mahoningtown branch, 705; Shenago Valley hospital branch, 91; total branch circulation, 796.

Financial report: Balance June 1, $10.17; received from treasurer, $71.89; total, $82.06. Money expended for books, $2.25; for salaries, $37.60; for periodicals, $1.00; for library supplies, $1.00; for janitor supplies, 50c; for drayage, $3.00; for laundry,, 59c, for postage, 79c; for carfare, $3.90; for heat, $1.80; for sundries, 9:50; total $63.93; balance, $18,13.

Three eight tenth percent was gained in number of books circulated over June, 1926 and 28 percent was gained in reading room attendance.

On June 7 the librarian attended by invitation the meeting of the Pomona Grange in Big Beaver Grange hall and talked on the county library for Lawrence county.

June 20 to 26 Mrs. McFate, Miss Barber and the librarian attended the annual meeting of the American Library association at Toronto. The attendance was about 2,000, the weather was fine and the speakers were inspiring and the discussions helpful. Everything possible for the comfort and pleasure of the delegates was done by the staff of the public library, the University of Toronto and the people of the city.

Respectfully submitted,
ALICE M. STERLING,
Librarian.

The building of more shelves to take care of the additional books on the third floor was discussed at this meeting too. The purchase of another vertical file was approved by the board at this time.

Putting Concrete Under P.-O. Ties

Thorson Company today commenced putting concrete beneath ties on the P.-O. tracks, South Mill street, which is being repaved. The contractor is working on the south end of the improvement and it is possible that brick will be laid within a few days. The job has been ordered rushed by members of city council.

Champion Quilt-Maker

Woman, 89, Has Pieced Together More Than 500 Coverlets, Bringing Joy To Many Brides

Mrs. Jacob Trahn and one of the several hundred quilts she has made.

By EARL B. DOUGLAS
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

CHEROKEE, Ia., July 13.—Figuring each quilt as being seven feet long, which is the length of most quilts, if all the quilts which Mrs. Jacob Trahn of Cherokee has made in her lifetime were sewed together, end to end, they would be enough to cover a bed considerably more than half a mile long. At least that's the way maniacs at placing things end to end or piling them up, would put it. And such a quilt would cover an army regiment with enough left over to bed down a few score of army mules.

Mrs. Trahn probably holds the quilt-making record for the country. Since coming to Cherokee she has pieced 300 quilts, actual count, in 46 years. And as she is 89, she was 43 when she came here and in her earlier years she had pieced so many that she lost all count, so that she and her friends are sure she has pieced more than 500 coverlets.

Mrs. Trahn has continued to make quilts, and the remarkable thing is that she does not need glasses for the work. Her quilts are of every conceivable pattern and material, including silk, velvet and calico. Dozens of brides have had quilts from her, and many of Mrs. Trahn's friends also prize gift comforters from her.

When she was 10, Mrs. Trahn helped her father saw, with a crosscut saw, shingle blocks for a barn. At 15 she was milking 28 cows twice a day, and in all her life she has passed only two days in bed because of illness.

She works in a garden as well as at quilt making, and prides herself on having roasting ears by every Fourth of July. She and her husband are wealthy, but prefer to be active.

New Castle School Operation Cost In Year Is Million

Business Manger Marquis Shows Where Money Comes From And Goes To

During the school year of 1926-27, the New Castle School District expended $1,091,063.76, according to figures compiled by the Secretary of the Board, Hugh M. Marquis, who is also the business manager.

Of the $1,091,063.76, teachers in the schools were paid $572,713.54, the janitors were paid $52,542.94 and the general salary list was $21,633.81.

Text books and supplies cost $45,-622.39, and the operation of plant, which includes water, fuel and light and power, cost $34,983.60. The upkeep of the plant which includes ordinary and extraordinary repairs totals $33,987.19, while miscellaneous expense such as telephones, telegrams, drayage, freight, advertisement, etc., cost $5,422.32. Insurance cost $12,-169.63, tax collector's commissions $12,559.27, State Retirement fund $14,-172.74 and Rentals cost $65.00. These items are the ones for the actual operation of the school system.

In addition to these $80,087.50 was spent in the payment of interest coupons, $60,000.00 in the redemption of bonds, and $5,081.54 spent for the tax on bonds. The improvement of building, purchase of land and equipment cost $140,002.29.

Not All Taxes

Not all of this sum was raised through taxes. The citizens of New Castle paid $815,195.70 in taxes, and the rest came from the following sources. State Aid, $117,040.75. This amount is divided into $114,477.30 from Teachers' Salaries aid, and $2,-563.45 for Vocational Aid. Sales and rentals brought $9,644.81, Tuition brought in $18,733.98, and interest on bank deposits brought in $9,744.59. From the sale of bonds was received $750,000.00 at face value, $16,645.57 from premiums and $2,054.17 from accrued interest. The total income for the school year was $1,739,059.57. To this must be added a balance of $253,549.54 from last year, making a total of $1,992,609.11. From this should be deducted the vouchers as of July 1, $6,680.89, making a net of $1,985,928.22.

Deducting the expenditures of 1926-27, or $1,091,063.76 leaves a balance of $894, 864.46, and adding the unpaid vouchers of $5,218.17 leaves a net balance on hand at the present time of $900,082.63.

This is an unusual balance on hand, but it should be remembered the new junior high school and the addition to the Senior high school will eat most of this up.

The broad general rule is that the girl who looks most astonished when here Romeo finally proposes is the one who had it figured out a year ago what she would wear at the church.

Bank Buildings Being Razed Used 59 Years Both Erected In 1868

With the rapid demolition of the banking house of the First National Bank of Lawrence Coounty, corner of Washington and North Mercer streets, to make way for the magnificent six story banking house and business block of the bank, the history of the present building, now being destroyed is of interest.

The First National Bank of Lawrence County, it will be remembered is a union of the First National Bank and the National Bank of Lawrence County. The first named bank was organized as a national bank in 1864, being the first national bank in Lawrence county. The National Bank of Lawrence County was organized as such in the following year.

The First National Bank occupied a room in the old Kissick Home, located on the site of the building now being razed in exactly the same position as its banking room in the building now disappearing. The corner room was then a drug store conducted by the father of Howard Horner, an employe of the First National Bank for many years. The First National Bank was often designated as the Foltz Bank because of the fact this was the name of its founder.

The National Bank of Lawrence County was organized in 1865 from the Patterson Bank, a private banking institution. In 1868, the two banking institutions combined in the erection of a then very fine banking house, the National Bank of Lawrence County, taking the corner half and the First National Bank the other half. It was one of the finest banking houses in this part of the country at the time.

The vaults of the two banks, now one institution, will be destroyed along with the rest of the building. They were among the best in the country at the time of their construction. That of the First National Bank was a Remington-Sherman vault, considered extremely good and proof against theft, even at the present time. It was installed in 1898.

The vaults were taken into consideration by the contracting concern in the construction of the new vault of the First National Bank of Lawrence County. What use they will make of them is not known.

The fixtures of the two banks, now one institution, are being taken out with care and will be stored. It is probable that they will be disposed of to some other banking institution in the near future.

More Vocational Schools Are Urged

Bowman Suggests To Chemical Society Convention Means Of Aiding Conditions

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 13.—Establishment of vocational, or corporation schools in every large industrial center as a means for correcting a fault of the national education system in giving men technical training "before they have an opportunity to know their own minds," was urged by Prof. R. E. Bowman, of Wilmington, Del. trade school, today at the American Chemical Society Institute here.

Discussing the training of chemists, Professor Bowman said technical training should follow and not precede the students personal contact with industry.

He cited the General Motors Institute of Technology, the Henry Ford Trade School and the Westinghouse Technical Night School as exemplary vocational schools.

"Every boy who wishes to take a course in chemical engineer," Prof. Bowman declared, "should actually work a full year in a plant or laboratory before being admitted. Let him get the contact first to prevent a possible misfit."

Engineering schools should recruit their students through the industries instead of through prep schools, he concluded.

BOARD ELECTS NEW TEACHERS

Several Are Named At Meeting Of School Board Tuesday Night

Several new teachers were elected Tuesday evening by the New Castle school board when the monthly meeting was held.

Miss Phyllis Btal was elected to replace Miss Martha Broad who recently resigned as instructor of the Opportunity Class in the Lincoln-Garfield school. James H. Lewis was elected to fill the vacancy as instructor in drafting in the Ben Franklin school made vacant by the resignation of Homer C. Weitz.

Other teachers elected are Harriet Ewing, Beulah Ruthrauff and Margaret Reed.

Drs. Mildred Rodgers and Ralph Campbell were reappointed school physicians.

LONDON, July 13.—Many are dead and extensive damage has been done in a new cloudburst and hurricane in the Nofdenham district of western Germany, according to a Central News dispatch from Berlin. Relief is being dispatched.

Install Machinery At School Shops

Additional time will be required to put the machinery of the Ben Franklin shop in condition for the coming year, according to Dr. C. C. Green's report to the school board on Tuesday night, and Percy Howell, a vocational instructor who has been employed there since the close of school, will be continued until August 15. Repairs were needed, according to Dr. Green, and they will take more time than was at first anticipated.

Walsh Waives Hearing; Will Go Before Court

Sensational Hearing In Pittsburgh Is Suddenly Halted Last Night

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 13. — The charges of conspiracy to blackmail filed against Superintendent of Police Peter P. Walsh by William L. King, director of the Citizen's League of Pittsburgh, a reform organization, will be aired before a grand jury.

Interrupting a hearing before Justice of the Peace George B. Shields, Wilkinsburg, last night, attorneys for Walsh posted $3,000 bond, and waived further hearings pending a grand jury investigation of the charges.

Five witnesses had been placed on the stand when the hearing was suddenly brought to a close.

Testimony of three westerners, concerning the alleged blackmail plot produced quite a sensation at the hearing. Among them was the Chief of Police at Cheyenne, Wyo., Fred L. Thompson.

Evidence submitted at the hearing tended to show that a man named Harry Steele spent several days throughout the west, gathering data concerning alleged relations between King and Mrs. Rachel Carr, whom he married suddenly and brought back here following his mysterious disappearance last month.

Meanwhile, Mayor Charles H. Kline has made no announcement concerning the action he will take on the League's demand that Walsh be ousted. The mayor was expected to state his position today.

ESCAPE HEAT AT CASCADE PARK

Young Folks With Disdain For Heat Romp At Rainbow Terrace

While hot rays beat down upon the city streets yesterday hundreds of persons, the most of them mothers with their children went to Cascade park where they found hundreds of shade trees and those who did not seek relief beneath the trees and in other cool spots took a "dip" in the Glenn pool which is operating in full blast.

Many persons stretched blankets on the lawn and stayed there until the park closed. However the young folk who like to dance apparently paid no attention to the heat and romped on Rainbow terrace to the step of "hot music.'

According to officials the attendance figures at Cascade park are increasing daily.

Annual Report On City Schools May Be Issued

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools presented the matter of an annual report to the New Castle school board on Tuesday night. In his report he said that it was done by most cities of the size of New Castle and provided those interested in schools with a concrete array of the school facts for the year. The matter will be taken up and investigated by the board.

West Pittsburg Child Is Injured

Catherine Edmondson aged 4 of Eleventh street, West Pittsburg sustained a fracture of one of her legs last night when struck by an automobile near her home. The owner of the automobile is a resident of New Castle according to information secured in West Pittsburg and the accident was unavoidable.

The little girl, it is stated, ran out in front of the machine and it was impossible for the driver to stop the machine before hitting her. The accident occurred about 8:30 p. m. and the little girl was removed to the New Castle hospital following the accident where the fracture was reduced. She was doing as well as could be expected the hospital authorities reported today.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT.

Creamed spaghetti and ham is one of those deservedly popular one-dish affairs that combine the meat and potato courses. Fresh berries or fruit of any kind available should be used as much as possible at this time of the year. They save work and are a delightful change from the usual puddings, pies and cakes.

Creamed Spaghetti with Ham
Raisin Bread Butter
Cabbage and Carot Salad
Fresh Berries Plain Cookies
Milk.

TODAY'S RECIPES.

Plain Sugar Cookies — Two cups white sugar, one cup butter, one cup thin sour cream or buttermilk, one teaspoon soda, three eggs, flour to roll very soft.

Creamed Spaghetti—Drop half box spaghetti into boiling salt water and boil ten minutes. Make one pint of medium white sauce and pour over the rinsed and drained spaghetti. Fry a small slice of smoked ham and cut into small pieces. The meat and drippings are then added to spaghetti, reheat and serve.

White Sauce—Two tablespoons butter, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one tablespoon flour, one cup milk, dash of pepper. Melt butter but do not brown; add the flour and seasoning and stir until smooth. Add the milk slowly, stirring constantly until all is added and is perfectly smooth. Let it boil up once then it is ready to be added to the spaghetti.

SUGGESTIONS.

Pleats and Frills.

When buying material for box pleating, buy three times the length of what it is to cover. Frills take two and one-half times as much material.

Children's Socks.

Fold children's socks instead of rolling them. Rolling stretches them at the ribed tops and causes them to wrinkle and fall down.

Company B Will Attend Funeral

Members of Company B. 125th Engineers, have been requested by the officer in charge to meet at the armory on Neshannock avenue at 1 o'clock Thursday for the purpose of attending the funeral of Howard J. Custer. They are asked to attend in uniform as it is planned to hold a military funeral.

O is for "o-o-o-h"—Virginia's favorite noise during a ghost story.
K is for kindliness—one of the outstanding traits of our counselors.

Is Fleeced Out Of Life Savings

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, July 13.—Michael Butera, 40 of this city, today searched for two accommodating strangers who are holding his life savings of $2,800. Butera told authorities that the men held the money for him while he stepped into a drug store to buy a box of aspirin for one of the pair.

When he started back to the car in which the trio was riding, Butera said, the car had disappeared—his savings with it.

Six Pairs Of Brothers At Y. M. C. A. Camp Now; Most Unusual Record

Forty-five hearty boys are enjoying the outdoor life at the Y. M. C. A. camp on the Slippery Rock creek at the present time. The boys seem to love the life in the open.

The group of boys at the camp now went there on Tuesday morning, July 5. They will remain until July 18 before returning, although a few of them will stay over until the camp closes on August 2. A new group of campers will arrive at the camp for a two weeks stay on July 19.

An unusual incident at the camp this year is that there are six pairs of brothers present. They are: Bobby and George Muse, Manning and Joe Weller, George and Wilbur Stevens, Bill and Joe Pherson, Heber and Frank Baldwin and Howard and Lloyd Berkley. There have been other times when several pairs of brothers have attended the camp at the same time, but there has never been as many as six pairs present.

The boys state that they are fed well and like the cooking of Mrs. Mary Ralston a great deal.

The mess tent is located besides the cooking tent. There are four tables in the tent and yesterday when the writer asked the boys why one of the tables had a flag on it while the others did not, they said that the table which is the quietest at meal time and the neatest gets the flag.

This system is carried out in regards to the tents too. The tent which is the neatest and quietest and keeps in order, gets a flag to put up in front of it. At the present time time No. 1 possesses the flag, but according to the boys tent No. 2 has had the flag 3 out of 6 times. The flag is changed every day. The following boys make up ten No. 2: leader, George Muse, advisor, Sherwood Johns, Herbert Christman, Billy Duff, Bobby Muse, Ed Fritz, Bob Wilkins, Heber Baldwin and Ernest Snyder.

Headquarters tent is located in the center of the camp. John Leonard and Walter Kirker, who are in charge of the camp stay there.

The boys have a fine swimming pool. The water is in places nearly six feet deep and is clear. A new diving tower has been erected for the boys. It is about 8 feet high and gives the boys an opportunity to learn how to dive. A row boat and a raft are also furnished.

A baseball league has been formed. At the present time the Cubs and Mugs are tied for first place while the Yanks are in second place. The standing follows:

Team	W.	L.
Cubs	3	2
Mugs	3	2
Yanks	2	2
Whoops	1	3

The Yanks and the Whoops were scheduled to do battle yesterday afternoon.

In the basketball league, the Bulls, Tarzans, Blue Coats, Celtics are leading. Games are played every evening. The baseball games are played in the afternoon of the days that are suitable.

There is a recreation tent also. On wet days the boys gather in this and do everything they want to. Indoor baseball, mock trials and the like have been held at different times.

A fine tennis court, basketball court and ball field are provided. Tennis is a great sport among the boys and many games are played.

The services on Sunday are conducted at a beautiful spot. Under shade trees and near the river it is one of the best places to hold affairs of this kind.

The boys are deriving a great deal of benefit from the outdoor life and are having much pleasure besides.

The camp can be reached by going out the Harlansburg road from New Castle and going straight through Harlansburg till a large Y. M. C. A. Camp sign to the right of the road is reached. By turning down this road and going down it a short distance one can see the camp.

Corn Inspectors Still At Work

Battle Against Corn Borer Is Still Under Way; News Of Mercer

MERCER, Pa., July 13.—Meade Davidson and his corps of six inspectors still working in the county making inspection of the corn land as a part of the program of eradication of the borer planned and carried out by the federal government.

The inspection work is of the slowest kind. Each foot of ground must be carefully gone over to determine that it has been cleaned of the corn refuse of last year. When it is considered that there are 22,000 acres to inspect the work must go on for some time.

The most hearty co-operation is reported. There are instances where farmers have refused to accept the money given them by the government for cleaning up their premises, stating that the eradication program was to their benefit as well as that of the state.

It is expected that the results of the eradication program will be outstanding in reduction of infected corn.

The picking of 54 tomatoes from one vine in the hot house of Joe Alleah hangs out a new agricultural record. The number by no means constitutes the entire crop, the vine is stated to be productive of as many more.

A law suit in which neither plaintiff or defendant are residents of Mercer county will be tried unless settled at common pleas court sessions of next fall. The plaintiff in the action is Norman Friday of Lawrence county who alleges that his automobile was damaged by Donald Strang of Cuyhoga county, O., on June 24, last, when it is alleged Strang driving in a reckless manner hit his car.

That there is a lack of money in Mercer county or that money in large sums is not being made in the county is contradicted by the books of the prothonotary's office here. The books of the office show that the judgments paid off here daily contrasted with those filed are 10 to 1 favoring the first named. The number of judgments being paid off are in such numerical strength as to call attention to their number by the officials of the office. The number of judgments filled has been materially reduced.

James Rupert and Roger Johnson, Mercer boys are on a tour to Washington. Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Johnson of this city.

County farmers are cutting some of the best hay ever harvested in county history.

BANDIT HALTS NOTED HIKER

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—William J. Fox, Jr., 21, Brooklyn, N. Y., nephew of Gov. Al Smith, who set out to hike from New York to the Pacific coast, was halted at Lancaster Pike and Wynnewood road early today by a bandit.

As the man told him to hand over his money, however, an automobile approached the pair. The bandit fled into nearby woods. Fox notified the Ardmore police who caught a glimpse of the bandit but were unable to catch him.

Like an officer in the army, Mr. Dempsey finds he has been reduced several numbers for losing a battle.—San Bernardino Daily Sun.

Ford Tour Planes End Long Journey

Eddie Stinson Wins First Prize And Reliability Cup In Contest

DETROIT, July 13.—Riding a lashing wind, rain and hail storm, the 13 planes of the national air tour landed safely at the Ford airport here late Tuesday, completing a goodwill voyage which took them to 25 cities in 15 states, with a total distance of 4169 miles covered during the trip.

Eddie Stinson, piloting a Stinson-Detroiter monoplane, was announced winner of the first prize of $2,500 and Edsel Ford trophy.

"The fact that these planes weathered the severe storm, and made the long goodwill voyage without serious accident shows the increasing reliability of the modern aeroplane," Henry Ford said. "It is also clear testimony of the reliability of the pilots who directed the planes over the course."

Change Is Made In Sick Leave Plan In Schools

In the future, sick leave for teachers in the New Castle Public Schools will be cumulative according to a motion passed at the board meeting on Tuesday night.

Heretofore every teacher has been allowed three days per year sick leave. Many of them did not have to use the allowance, but after working several years would be out for a week or two weeks on account of sickness and would be allowed only the current three days.

Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent, recommended to the board that the leave be made cumulative which means that if a teacher worked ten years without any sickness, and was stricken for a period of a month, she would have thirty days sick leave coming to her.

CUNNINGHAM AVE. DUST TO BE OILED

Residents of Cunningham avenue, between Division and Lutton streets appeared before the New Castle School Board on Tuesday evening and asked that the board co-operate with the residents in the oiling of their street.

After some questioning as to price and the statement by the representatives that the city would put the oil on the street, the board agreed to stand half the expense of the oil.

Brother Saves Two Sisters From Drowning

Norton Davis Rescues Two Caught In Swirl Hole In Slippery Rock

Mrs. Ella Hovice, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, and Miss Rhoda Davis of near Princton, were saved from drowning in the Slippery Rock Creek by the presence of mind and fearlessness of their brother Norton Davis recently when they stepped into a swirl hole common in this creek.

Miss Davis cannot swim and went under at once dragging her sister, Mrs. Hovice with her. The two sisters had gone down the second time when the brother discovering them, dove in fully dressed. He broke the death grip of Miss Davis on her sister which allowed Mrs. Hovice freedom to make the shore in safety.

But to get the other ashore was another question. Mr. Davis is not a life saver and in fact could swim very little himself. His only hope was to drag his sister on the bottom until they reached shallow water and thus she was taken ashore.

The victims of the incident and the rescuer were attended by a physician and the next day had completely recovered from the shock and physical effects of the accident.

Mrs. Hovice will be able to return to Oklahoma with her husband and children in a few days. They have been visiting with her father near Princeton. Mrs. Hovice was Miss Ella Davis before her marriage to Mr. Hovice.

There is no question in the minds of the spectators who witnessed the accident but that the two women would have lost their lives had it not been for the prompt action of their brother.

Commerce Board Directors To Meet

The next regular meeting of the board of directors of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce will be held as a luncheon meeting in the Elks' club, at 12:15 p. m. Thursday, July 14.

There are a number of very important reports to be submitted and some very encouraging information on industry will be reported at this meeting.

As this is President Pyle's initial meeting it is desired that every member of the board be present.

PLAYGROUNDS CHILDREN TO USE SCHOOL POOL

Speaking in behalf of the newly organized Recreational Board, Miss Phyllis Beal, supervisor of playgrounds appeared before the New Castle School Board and asked that they be allowed to use the Benjamin Franklin Swimming pool as part of the playground work.

The board consented with the stipulation that the pool was not to be used until summer school is over which will be one more week. Following the close of summer school arrangements will be made to have the youngsters of the playgrounds use the pool every day.

CHOSEN QUEEN OF THE MOOSE

Park Police Aid In Solving Petty "Jobs"

Take Boys Into Custody When They Find They Have Too Much Money

LADS ADMIT TAKING MONEY FROM STORE

Small boys who have a penchant for taking money that does not belong to them are discovering that the police force at Cascade park are on the job and as a result several thefts which have recently occurred have been solved.

Recently two boys who appeared to have more money than their age and size called for were detained and given to city police and a robbery was solved and last night a clean up of half a dozen petty acts was likewise solved.

Police at the park noticed the small boys spending money and when they were questioned Chief Tom Newell discovered they had taken the money from an East Side store.

He notified the city authorities and after the lads had been taken to the police station for questioning they admitted taking the money and of breaking windows in several East Side stores.

PLAN FOR BUYING COAL FOR SCHOOLS

Buying coal is hardly in keeping with the present torrid weather but it isn't a bad idea to look ahead. With this in mind, the New Castle School Board will take bids for the winter supply of coal at the August meeting. The bond of the successful bidder will be raised from $1000.00 to $2000.00.

American Girls In Transport Plane Are Uninjured In Crash

Dutch Transport Plane Crashes Between Paris And Amsterdam

(International News Service)

PARIS, July 13.—Four American girls escaped injury when a Dutch plane, flying from Paris to Amsterdam, crashed near St. Omer.

A Dutch passenger was injured slightly but all others were unhurt and have entrained for Amsterdam.

The names of the four American passengers as taken down by the French police at St. Omer were announced as follows:—

Florence Gremstein, 22, New York; Mariana Baker, 24; Marguerite Moyer, 27; Aimee Kleysders, 19.

The addresses of the last three were not given.

Rose Ave. School Floors Will Be Replaced Soon

After some weeks of correspondence between the New Castle School Board and the Marbleoid Company, an agreement has been reached whereby the cracked floors of the Rose Avenue School will be replaced.

The argument has been as to whose fault it was that the cracks appeared, the board arguing that the marbleoid was laid in a poor manner, and the Marbleoid Company arguing that the concrete supporting the marbleoid had cracked.

Architect H. M. Wirsing made an examination and reported that the concrete was not cracked and the company has agreed to send men to New Castle who will examine the job. If the concrete is found to be cracked the board is to be paid the cost price of the work. If the marbleoid is faulty the work will be done free. Secretary H. M. Marquis is authorized to arrange for the work immediately.

Eddie Stinson Wins Trophy Cup For Most Points Scored On Recent Tour

(International News Service)

DETROIT, July 13.—Preliminary plans for the 1928 reliability tour were discussed today at a meeting of pilots who took part in the third annual national air tour, a number of aircraft manufactures or their representatives, Assistant Secretary of Commerce William P. MacCracken, Jr., and local board of commerce officials.

The air tourists returned to the Ford airport late yesterday afternoon while a 60 mile gale was blowing. All landed safely.

The Edsel Ford Reliability Trophy was presented to Eddie Stinson at a banquet of the tourists last night. Stinson's new monoplane, although carrying the heaviest load of any of the 14 machines entered in the tour, scored the most points. This machine will soon attempt to break the 51-hour non-stop flight record and also try to circle the globe in 15 days, it was announced.

BANK DEPOSITS SHOW INCREASE

Excellent Condition Is Reflected At Grove City; Other News

GROVE CITY, Pa., July 13.—Recent statements issued by the local banks show a large increase in deposits, both checking and savings accounts, which would indicate increased prosperity in Grove City. The Grove City National Bank, with total deposits of $2,089,783.58, shows an increase within the last six months of $138,404.00 of which $74,600.00 is in savings accounts. The First National Bank reports an increase in deposits within the last three months of $85,000,000, making their total deposits $2,131,383.77.

Other interesting items shown by the report of the Grove City National is that the bank paid as interest to it's depositors in the last six months, $25,860.72, and to stockholders in dividends $7,500.00.

Grove City fishermen report catches of the season at Sandy Lake, over the week end. Dave Shelly still holds the record catch of a 33½ inch muskellunge weighing eight pounds, while other fine catches were made by Germ Dresch, who landed a 33½ inch—7½ pound "muskie". Miss Anna Firm who conquered a 31½ inch—6½ pounder, and Dr. Bastress who reported a 30½ inch "muskie" weighing six pounds.

E. R. Sinnock, who has been assistant scout executive of the Clarion-Venango county council, is leaving Franklin, July 15, for Grove City where he will be associated here with Foster C. Jones, scout executive of the Grove City Scout Council. R. B. Graham, executive in charge of Clarion-Venango county scout work, announced that the transfer of Sinnock is the result of a necessary reduction in the present staff, due to financial problems which must be met by the two-county council.

Installation of new machinery in the plant of the Bessemer Gas Engine company speeds up the output in departments which are becoming busier every day. A new electric welding apparatus was recently installed in the welding department to speed up processes of welding. The foundation is being laid for a new 42-inch engine lathe in department No. 301, which will be of much assistance in handling the big crank shafts, turned out by this department. A new radial drill has also been placed in department No. 301.

The outside crane for the foundry and machine shop storage yard is also being put into operating condition and will be ready for work within a few days. The crowded condition of the shops will be relieved by the operation of the outside storage crane.

Rev. Homer B. Henderson, pastor of the United Presbyterian church here will leave next week for a month's vacation. The local church pulpit will be filled with a number of supplies that have been procured through a special committee of the session.

K Company, S. Of V. Selected Officers

K Company, military department of the Sons of Union Veterans, has selected officers to have charge of its affairs during the present term of enlistment in the organization. The permanent officers selected are Walter Cross, Captain; C. M. Gillespie, First Lieutenant; Edward E. Cross, Second Lieutenant. The company is now drilling at regular intervals.

Blank Cartridge Burns Cause Death

(International News Service)

ALTOONA, Pa., July 13.—Another Fourth of July celebrator lost his life here when Michael Sapata, 12, of Cresson, succumbed in a hospital to tetanus. His left arm was burned when a blank cartridge was discharged. Sebastian Ancalone, 14, is in the hospital with lockjaw from a similar accident.

Blemished Skin Clears Up Quickly

Sunshine and wind are not always so kind to us. When dainty complexions and hands are exposed to their burning and roughening effect they become freckled, tanned or discolored; usually in spots.

A minute's care will whiten the skin again. Simply squeeze the juice of two lemons into a three-ounce bottle of Orchard White, which you can get from your nearest store, and massage the complexion and hands with this lotion.

You will be delighted with the way it clears your skin and revives its youthful charm.

New Pest Now Makes Threat On State Trees

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 13.—State Forest plantations are threatened with hordes of spittle bugs which have increased recently at an unusual rate, officials of the State Department of Forests and Waters said today. Plantations in Centre, Mifflin and Clearfield counties were said to be especially affected.

The small insects have been found to some extent on white pine but are more plentiful on Scotch pine. Parts of the plantations, regardless of the growth stage, are literally covered with the bugs.

Despite the assertion of entomologists that spittle bugs seldom damage trees to any extent, district foresters report that when their number increases too rapidly serious results to trees may follow. Unlike a number of other insects which damage trees the spittle bugs multiply best during long dry spells.

Unless methods of controlling the pest are found, officials say that they may yet present a serious menace to the large plantations under the supervision of the Department of Forests and Waters.

May Complete Gangster Trial Jury Yet Today

Seven Jurors In Box As Trial Is Resumed Today; Special Venire Called

By ALBERT F. BAENZIGER
(International News Service)

BENTON, Ill., July 13.—With seven jurors sitting in the box, tentatively accepted by both sides, and a special venire of 20 on hand from which to select the remaining five, prospects of completing the jury which is to try the notorious gangsters, Charles Birger, Ray "Izzy" Hyland and Art Newman, for the murder of West City's mayor, Joe Adams, loomed bright today. The defense attorneys tendered back the second panel for the approval of the state.

The crowd, which has thinned out the last few days because of intense heat of the court and monotonous examination of the prospective jurors, sensed the beginning of the real drama and jammed the spacious rural courtroom to be on hand when the opening arguments are started.

Two whole days have now elapsed without an open verbal battle between the chief defendant, Charles Birger, and his former comrade in crime, Art Newman, who, apparently, still intends to take the stand and "rock the state" through an expose of his former leader's criminal activity in "Little Egypt".

The promised statement of R. E. Smith, senior counsel for Birger, concerning whether all defense attorneys would pool their interests or conduct separate defenses for their clients, has not been made.

Man Suicides In Abandoned Store

New York City Man Makes Good Threat To End Life; Hanged Self To Rafter

(International News Service)

RENOVO, Pa., July 13.—Financial worries today were ascribed as a motive for the suicide of Morris Konradi, 55, found hanging in an abandoned Lockhaven store room where he formerly was proprietor.

Before his death, Konradi sent a letter from here notifying friends in Lockhaven that his body would be found in the abandoned store. Physicians estimated the man had been dead eight hours when the body was found.

Konradi was survived by his wife and other relatives in New York City.

King Ferdinand Critically Ill

(International News Service)

BERLIN, July 13.—King Ferdinand, of Roumania, is again in a critical condition, according to private advices received here.

The king is failing gradually and his physicians are reported as saying that he is "dying by inch." He is said to weigh only 84 pounds now as compared with his normal weight of 160 pounds.

Queen Marie and the king's daughter, Queen Marie of Jugo-Slavia, are constantly with the king at Sinaia.

Don't get the idea you're a heartbreaker when she cries on your shoulder; maybe you bored her to tears.

BOOZE MAKERS MAY FORFEIT REAL ESTATE

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 13.—Confiscation of real estate upon which liquor is illegally produced will be practiced by the government in a drive to "make prohibition pay for itself," Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury announced today.

Lowman said that the government may assess whiskey and alcohol, illegally produced or withdrawn from warehouses, at the rate of $.40 a gallon and alcoholic cereal beverage at the rate of $6 a barrel.

Administrators here for a conference, were instructed to enforce these civil assessments and in case of failure of payment to resort to property confiscation. Moonshiners and home brewers as well as commercial bootleggers, may be hit by this action.

It is said that American dollars are causing trouble in China, which puts the Flowery Kingdom in a class with America, where the chief trouble is to get them.

SUGGESTIONS

Hints for Camping Motorists

By MRS. MARY MORTON

"Having motored from coast to coast," writes a woman, "I like to exchange suggestions with those women who cook in the open spaces. For our water supply we filled our large thermos jug with cracked ice, which we purchased in large towns, where we knew the ice supply was made from pure water. This provided us with a cold water supply for twenty-four hours.

"When a man at the wheel wants to break camp early in order to get an early start before the heat of the day' breakfast can be eaten enroute. The baker has an attractive display of food early in the morning which tastes so good with a drink of coffee or milk from the thermos bottle and does not cause a delay for service. We found that throughout the small towns of the southwest such heavy foods were served so we often bought a pint of ice cream for our noon luncheon.

"The manager of the motor kitchen need not serve canned foods, for she can arrange to get fresh supplies for the evening meal by locating on the map the large town near the point chosen for the camp site. At this town one can secure meat, vegetables and fruits. The beans or corn can be prepared while the car is in motion, thus saving time when the camp is reached and the vegetables can be put on to cook while camp is being made. A Dutch oven is excellent for use on an open camp fire."

Non-Smelling Cans

Rinse all tin cans with hot water and dry thoroughly either in the oven or in the sun before throwing into the regular trash box.

This method eliminates a great many unpleasant idors and lessens the flies and mosquitoes.

ACUTE ALCOHOLISM KILLED MOVIE MAN, AUTOPSY REVEALS

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 13.—Percival L. Lynwood, motion picture employe, died of "acute alcoholism," surgeons announced last night after an autopsy, thus ending an incipient murder mystery.

Lynwood's body, with a deep gash across the back of the head, was found in his wrecked Hollywood apartment this morning. His wife, Mrs. Marie Lynwood, was sobbing at his feet when police arrived. Until late in the afternoon, she was unable to give a coherent story of the action preceding her husband's death, because, police said, she was intoxicated.

WHERE TWO WOMEN WERE HACKED TO PIECES

New York police are working to solve the mystery in one of the most gruesome murders in years. Bodies of two women were found hacked to pieces in the basement at 28 Prospect Place, Brooklyn, shown above. One was identified as that of Miss Sarah Elizabeth Brownwell (above), sixty-five. Below are shown some of the blood-stained tools found in the basement, on which police hoped to find fingerprints.

JAMES J. LE BOEUF, THE VICTIM

MRS. ADA BONNER LE BOEUF CO-DEFENDANT WITH DR. DREHER

Sheriff Charles Pecot has cleared up quickly a murder mystery, following the finding near Morgan City, La., of the buckshot-riddled and mutilated body of James J. LeBoeuf in lonely Lake Palourde. Within a day, the Sheriff jailed the wife of the victim, Mrs. Ada Bonner LeBoeuf and her alleged lover, Dr. Thomas E. Dreher, as well as James Beadle, trapper, whom the couple, in confessions given out by the sheriff, charge with being the assassin hired by the wealthy physician. Beadle, however, has refused to admit any complicity in the case. The confessions assert that the 38-year-old wife and the doctor conspired the death of LeBoeuf, a prominent business man. LeBoeuf was in one boat on the Lake, the doctor and the alleged hired assassin in another and the wife in a third, according to the confessions. Following the shooting, the body was mutilated and thrown into the Lake. It is believed that the defense will try to prove LeBoeuf had threatened Dr. Dreher.

Activities At Westfield Church During The Week

Number Of Important Meetings To Take Place During Remainder Of The Week

A number of special meetings are scheduled for the remainder of the week in Westfield Presbyterian church. Among them are the following:

On Thursday afternoon at two o'clock the Woman's Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. William Duff. Miss Elizabeth Patterson, a former member of the Westfield congregation, now a teacher in the Robinson Mission School in Kentucky, will speak.

Miss Patterson has been engaged in home mission work for a number of years and her address promises to be one of much interest. Mrs. Maggie Martin will lead the devotional period.

Thursday evening at 8:15 the fourth session of the mid-week Bible school will be conducted. Rev. J. C. Williamson of this city will give his third lecture on the subject of "Prayer". About one hundred were present at the meeting last week.

The choir will meet for practice at the church on Friday evening at 8:30.

Saturday afternoon members of the Porter-Reed Westminster Guild will meet at the home of Margaret Fullerton. Marian Miller will be the leader.

Saturday evening the teachers' discussion meeting will take place at the manse.

Sunday morning worship at 10:30. Sermon by the pastor. At 7:30 the Christian Endeavor Society will have an unusually interesting meeting, as reports will be given by the delegates who attended the International Christian Endeavor convention in Cleveland.

Asks Damages In Sum Of $40,000

Mrs. Donnelly Files Suit In Court For Large Sum As Result Of Arrest

Through her attorney, Ex-Judge S Plummer Emery, Mrs. Frances Donnelly today filed a suit for $40,000 damages against the Brown & Hamilton Company, the case arising out of a suit pressed by the Brown & Hamilton Company some months ago.

During the winter a coat was stolen from the Brown & Hamilton Company and Mrs. Donnelly was charged with having stolen it. There was a resemblance in the coat she had on to the one stolen and the defendants had her arrested and the coat was seized.

In the trial of the suit Mrs. Donnelly proved that she had purchased the coat from the Union Store and she was acquitted.

As a result she has brought suit for $40,000 damages as reparation for the injuries to her reputation.

Intrepid American Fliers Enjoy Selves Aboard Giant Liner

ABOARD S. S. LEVIATHAN, July 13.—America's intrepid airmen who spent sleepless hours of worry in their last passage over the Atlantic in the air, are today enjoying the restful quiet of a voyage homeward on the sea.

Commander Byrd and his colleagues of the America flight, are enjoying a complete rest. After dining in his suite last night, Commander Byrd took breakfast today in his cabin and said he intended to take things very easy for the first few days out.

Clarence Chamberlin, of the Bellanca flight, was more active. He dined with Mrs. Chamberlin at the captain's table last night and was walking the decks early today with Mrs. Chamberlin and Fraulein Thea Rasche, the German Aviatrix.

Passengers are displaying great interest in the America and Raulein Rasche's plane which are stowed away side by side on the after deck.

Isaac Williamson Reports Phone Talk From California End

Long Beach, Cal.,
July 6, 1927.

Hello Central.

Give me long distance please—hello long distance—I would like to get New Castle please — what's that? what New Castle? Oh I beg your pardon, I want New Castle, Pa., the biggest little town in this country, yes thank you I will just stand by until you get through, How long, well that's all right, I have nothing else to do. Thanks.

Hello New Castle—give me the News Office please. Hello is this the New Castle News, well I would like to talk to Mr. Rentz. How's that, it's Fred I want. Oh is this you Fred I didn't recognize your voice, what, yes I am away out here in sunny California, I thought I would call you up and inquire how things are going in the old home town.

How's that? Oh yes things are much different out here. They tell me they imported lady bugs here to kill the ants but I guess old maids and widows came of their own accord.

Say, Fred I saw one widow get a real roasting the other day. She went in bathing and old Sol got in his work. How's that, oh yes I am feeling fine. You know they are recommending dancing out here for longevity. I think I will live to be a hundred. It was my pleasure to dance with a real flapper the other evening. She was only eighty three she said. I didn't know whether she was complementing me or really felt that way. But I said yes anyway and just then the music stopped and I went out and watched the tide flow.

What the deuce are you laughing about—What? Why sure her hair was bobbed. How's that, say I'm not kidding it's a fact; What? oh yes, but they are not quite up to her knees.

I went down to the beach this morning to take a plunge but there was a flood in the ocean so I came back and took to the showers.

Say Fred they are getting lots of fish here but the land sharks get the big ones, What? well yes I have seen some of them. I had a run in with Bull Banannas but he apologized so there was nothing serious happened.

They are going to have a big time when Bill Rogers gets out. What's that? No, out of the hospital. They are going to give him a great reception when he returns home. He will return without his gall pouch for the doctor got that and also part of his money pouch.

I see in Hints and Dints that you were out playing golf. Say, do ladies play out there too? What? well then you had better stay at home and play old Sol. I see in your paper where one of the players made a hole in one. What's that? No I have been here since the eighth of April and have seen but one drunk. We saw plenty at Tia Juana and they weren't all males either.

We are going to spend two or three weeks in the Yosemite Valley if gas does not go too high. What? no we won't be home 'till next May, and say we will hardly know any one when we do come back if they keep dropping off as fast as they have since we came away.

What's that? No now quit kidding. Mind I'm a married man and besides mywife is here with me. Well yes I do see some pretty funny things in the ocean and they all don't have feathers or scales on either. Some of them look as though they had cut the fingers out of a pallbearers glove and slipped it on. Oh boy.

Say, Fred, my wife says she is going to get me a set of blinders. Gee but that will be a handicap. It's funny some person is always ready to put a hindrance in the way of one's pleasure. If I don't soon get those blinders I will be bow legged looking at the beauties. It's a long beach you know and my sight's improving.

Come out here. I have a list of twenty six of my friends and acquaintances who have dropped out not saying anything of the ones who have been locked up.

What? Oh yes we are meeting lots of nice people out here but they are mostly old folks. Say if they would hold an old people's convention there wouldn't be room enough for them in all Orange County.

Hello, Hello? Oh I thought you had hung up. Well there is a skirt waiting for this booth so I will ring off. Call you up again maybe some time. So long.

HOW CAN WOMEN KEEP WELL ENOUGH TO GET UP SINGING?

MRS. BELLE THOMPSON
3101 E. 44TH ST., EAST LAKE, TENN.

Springtime streamed in through the open windows. The green fields of Georgia were basking in the sunshine. Somewhere a bird was trilling. It was a day to be happy.

But the pale woman at the table sighed and pushed away her plate. Nothing tasted right. She couldn't eat much. She couldn't sleep well, either. She was so weak, it was hard to do her work. When the baby cried, she wanted to cry, too.

She had not been well for four years. Her husband watched her with a man's helpless expression. But his mother knew a remedy.

"My mother-in-law," says Mrs. Belle Thompson, 3101 E. 44th St., East Lake, Tenn., "told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I took six bottles of the Vegetable Compound. I could sleep and would get up in the morning singing and feeling fine. I am the mother of three children, and always after the babies came I had to take treatments, but I can truly say that this last time I have only used the Sanative Wash. It does more good than the treatments. It keeps me on my feet to care for my children and I do most of my work. I feel it my duty to let you know how both of the medicines have helped me."

Another Happy Woman

"I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the little books you give away and began to take the medicine. After the first few bottles I began to feel better and could eat better and had fewer headaches. I feel like a different person. At anytime that I don't feel good I take the Vegetable Compound again, as I always keep a bottle on hand. You may use this letter for every word is true. I will answer any letters sent to me."—Mrs. Jennie Bolleman, 611-11th St., Union City, N. J.

Predicts Safe Air Transportation In Next 10 Year Era

By MAJ. GEN. MASON M. PATRICK
Chief of Army Air Corps.

In ten years travel by air will be safer than any other method of transportation man employs.

We measure this by the number of accidents for miles flown, and these figures prove the air is not so dangerous. Planes are better. Motors are better and men know more about air travel than they did. It is always the pioneers who are the victims. In the early days of the railroads they passed through the same experience.

As a boy I remember reading about railroad accidents almost every morning, but that has changed now.

Recent accomplishments have shown conclusively that the oceans are shrinking and the public is getting "airminded".

But I want to utter a word of warning. There are three dangers that will do more to hamper aviation than anything else.

The first is that a great number of flying schools may spring up which will grind out pilots like the diploma mills grind out doctors. It takes time to learn to fly and some persons can never be fliers. I hope this danger will be safeguarded against.

The second danger is from organization of too many aircraft companies without substantial financial backing. These concerns may spring up and sell stock to the public like the wildcat oil wells.

The third danger is that smaller communities may get over-enthusiastic and try to build too many airports which, when built, would lie idle. For such smaller places a community airport would be ideal, with several towns supporting it.

GREAT NEW "62"

New Standards of Performance—
New Quality—New Value—New Luxury

WALTER P. CHRYSLER and his engineers present today a new car—the great six-cylinder "62"—which carries the name Chrysler still more emphatically to the head and front of the procession of engineering and manufacturing progress.

The great new Chrysler "62" is deliberately designed to give so much more for the money invested than any or all of the fifteen-odd sixes of similar size and type now made in this country, that the shrewd buying sense of more than 500,000 American buyers will bring realization that they simply cannot approach "62" value in any other cars.

No one can see, or drive, or even read the general specifications of the great new "62" without marveling at the value which Chrysler Standardized Quality has packed into its appearance, its manufacture and its unapproached performance.

Standardized Quality—extending its benefits to four great cars—specifying uniformity in high grade steels and all other materials—setting new standards of precision manufacture—cutting down costs but always raising quality to higher levels—this exclusive Chrysler principle makes it possible to produce in the great, new Chrysler "62" a six that leaps beyond the bounds of all competition.

Drive the great new "62" today. Any Chrysler dealer will gladly give you complete proof of its supreme value.

Legal Conundrum Is Decided In New Fall-Doheny Decision

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—In all seriousness this legal conundrum was put up to Justice William Hitz of the District of Columbia supreme court:

"If a man commits a crime he has no power to commit, is he guilty?"

To which Justice Hitz replies:

"Yes, if he thought he could commit it."

* * *

This is no imaginary case. It's the Fall-Doheny case.

The late President Harding signed an order transferring a lot of government oil land from the navy to the interior department.

Albert B. Fall, then secretary of the interior, handed some of it—the so-called Elk Hills reserve—over to the E. L. Doheny interests. The government accuses the two Dohenys, father and son, of paying $100,000 to Fall to do this—a bribe, the government asserts.

Now it's proposed to try the two Dohenys on a charge of bribing Fall, and Fall on a charge of accepting a bribe.

* * *

But in the meantime the government set up the claim:

That President Harding had no right to transfer the oil land from the navy to the interior department;

That his order, consequently, was no good—is wasn't a real transfer;

Consequently again, that the land in the law's eyes, never passed into the interior department's possession;

That Fall couldn't turn over to somebody else what he didn't have in the first place;

And therefore, in conclusion, that the Doheny interests didn't get Elk Hills at all—in a legal sense.

* * *

The courts upheld this contention. As a matter of literal fact the Doheny interests had moved onto the Elk Hills reserve and were acting as if they owned it, as undoubtedly they'd supposed they did, up to that time, but the government threw 'em off in short order.

The whole transaction was wiped out completely.

* * *

That is to say, everything was wiped out except the $100,000 bribery accusation.

Attorneys Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, for the government, show no signs of dropping that. Frank J. Hogan, chief counsel for the Dohenys, protests vigorously.

"How can a man have accepted a bribe," he argues, "to commit a crime which it's been conclusively shown he couldn't possibly have committed?"

"Yes," rejoins Justice Hitz, "but at the time he's accused of accepting the bribe, he thought he could commit the crime—if any."

* * *

In other words, as justice Hitz sees it, if it was wrong to try to hand Elk Hills to the Dohenys, Fall certainly was culpable, so far as his intentions were concerned, for he did his best to do it, and it was no credit to him that the courts knocked the transfer out later.

So Justice Hitz refused to dismiss the indictments, and about next winter, from all indications, there'll be another hard-fought Fall-Doheny trial to chronicle.

That's another thing that irritates Hogan. Fall and the elder Doheny, he says, were tried for the same thing, and acquitted, last winter, under conspiracy charges, and this is a repetition, with only a change of label.

MELON COMPLEX SATISFIED

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 13—Frank Holland, 21, and colored, in three days has satisfied his "melon complex" for three months. Holland was found asleep in his home by L. W. Foster, negro detective. Rinds from 25 watermelons were scattered about. Holland had been employed by a vender as a truck driver and disappeared along with a truck load of 240 melons. The melons were used as refreshments at a picnic with the exception of the 25 which Holland said he kept as a reserve supply.

Kills Pesky Bed-Bugs Roaches and Ants

Doctors declare that bed-bugs, roaches and other vermin are the most to be feared means of spreading such diseases as consumption, spinal meningitis and other infectious troubles. There is no disgrace in getting bed-bugs in your home, because that can't be avoided. But it is a disgrace to permit them to remain and thrive when it is so easy to get rid of them with the new chemical compound, P.D.Q., which quickly puts an end to these pesky devils.

A Million Bed-Bugs

A 35-cent package of this golden chemical will make a quart of a mixture that is so deadly to bed-bugs that it would kill a million of them if you could get that many together. Instantly it smothers and annihilates the living creatures; coats their eggs and stops them from hatching and multiplying.

Will Not Damage Goods

P.D.Q. will not injure delicate fabrics, clothing, carpets, furniture, bedding, wall paper or woodwork. In fact, it is often used as a deodorizer and disinfectant.

Moths

Impossible for moths to exist after using P.D.Q. Easy to use. A treatment on garments will prevent moths for two years.

For Ants and Cockroaches

Ants and cockroaches stand no chance of surviving a treatment of P.D.Q. It attacks them and their eggs with such force that it kills their whole generation.

P. D. Q. In Liquid Form

P.D.Q. can be purchased in sealed bottles double strength liquid form, with patent spout free. P.D.Q. Liquid can be diluted to make a quart or it can be used pure.

P.D.Q. is marketed in two style packages, Liquid form 50c, ready for use and P.D.Q. Dry form, 35c. Each package makes one quart.

Get P.D.Q. from your druggist today. Your money back if the bugs are not gone tomorrow.

KEATING WINS LAKE GEORGE MARATHON SWIM

Only Entry To Finish Event

Swims About 25 Miles Through Icy Water To Win $10,000

MAKES DISTANCE IN 18 HOURS 47 MINUTES

(International News Service)

LAKE GEORGE, N. Y., July 13.—Finishing alone out of a field of 110 entries in the Lake George marathon swim, Edward F. Keating of New York City emerged from the icy waters shortly after 4:30 this morning after a gruelling swim of 18 hours and 47 minutes, during which time he swam more than 25 miles.

Keating's victory was complete. One by one the other contestants had dropped out, and his nearest rival, Mrs. Lucy Diamond of Brooklyn was taken from the water shortly after two o'clock, five miles from the finish.

Apparently in splendid condition, Keating came ashore at the Fort William Henry dock unaided. He showed little signs of strain after the trying swim, which started from Hague-on-Lake George at 9:45 yesterday morning.

Give Up Struggle

One mile behind Mrs. Diamond, Mrs. Lottie Moore Schoemell, Bronx swimming instructor, was forced to give up the battle. Going into the contest against the advice of friends, who feared that she was not in condition for the race, Mrs. Schoemmell gave a fine performance and kept steadily on through the night. Paul Chotteau of New York City finished fourth.

A distance of from five to seven miles beyond Keating, the few survivors in the marathon were strung out. Twelve men and five women were reported still in the race, but it was not expected that any of them would finish for several hours, if at all.

Wins $10,000

Keating, who, by virtue of his spectacular victory, wins a $10,000 award offered by the American Legion for the first man to cover the 26 miles from Hague to the Fort William Henry dock, swam with a strong, steady stroke that evoked the admiration of experts and spectators alike. Forced to combat a choppy lake in the first hours of the swim, and an icy temperature as the night came on, Keating swam with undiminished vigor, even increasing his speed as the miles reeled off beneath him.

Fresh Water Champion

The Lake George marathon got away yesterday morning at the sound of a pistol shot fired by Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, who was an interested observer of the start of the race. Many thousands of tourists followed the swimmers while daylight lasted, and a crowd was on hand to greet Keating when he came ashore.

By virtue of his victory Keating becomes the fresh water champion of the world. He has also gained a rare distinction by demonstrating his ability to withstand the water of this cold lake. The temperature never was higher than 60 degrees during the swim, and in some spots was lower than 45.

Ryantown Trims Engineers 11-4

Samuels Hurls Steady Game As Ryantown Takes League Victory

Ryantown took a Twilight league victory 11 to 4 over Troop B in a fast game played Tuesday night at the Coaltown field.

Ryantown unloosened an attack on Sargent in the fourth inning that gave them five runs. Four more tallies in the fifth inning put the game on ice for the Ryantown team. The game was loosely played with a total of eight errors.

The Engineers used Sargent and Honkonen on the mound in their effort to stop the first half champions.

AMATEUR NOTES

The Eighth Ward Midgets defeated the West Side Juniors by the score of 17-9 last evening. S. Ovos pitched a pretty good game for the winners while Chaffee did likewise for the losers. E. Ottrosky proved a heavy hitter for the winners.

The Gaston Park playground juniors were defeated by the McCleary playground juniors by the score of 9-10. Winters pitched a fair game for McCleary avenue aggregation while Wilson pitched for the losers. Neyman and Kenst were heavy hitters for the losers. The game was played at the McCleary playground.

The West Side playground baseball nine defeated the Gaston Park playground baseball aggregation yesterday by the score of 8-5. In this game the children gave a good demonstration of ball playing.

New Castle Plays Canton Tonight

Game Is Called At 6:15 O'clock

First Game Under New Organization Tonight At Centennial Field

Ladies To Witness Game Free Tonight; Meis Or Hospidor On Mound

By "BUGS" WALTHER

Tonight at Centennial Field the baseball fans of New Castle, supporters of the Ohio and Pennsylvania League, will get their first glimpse of the revamped and newly created New Castle-Youngstown team. The locals will meet Canton in a scheduled battle. The game is called for 6:15 o'clock, daylight savings time.

The fairer sex will witness the game tonight free of charge. The directors of the New Castle club at a recent meeting voted to admit the ladies free to at least one game during the year, and they have selected tonight's engagement.

The fans are anxious to see the newly created team in action. The acquisition of Hunt, Hospidor, Greenae and DeMont will add quite some little strength to the New Castle roster, and together with the fine team that has been representing the locals, the four new men should put the finishing touches to a championship outfit.

Meis or Hospidor

Meis or Hospidor will take the mound tonight. Either Bryan or Greenae will go behind the bat, depending on the pitching choice. Greenae has been receiving the slants of Hospidor all year and will catch if the Youngstown ace is the selection. Should Meis take the knoll, and it is his turn, then Bryan, the peppery little Toledo backstop, will go behind the bat.

The New Castle line-up for tonight will consist of the following: Bryan or Greenae, catch; Meis or Hospidor, pitch; McCoy, first; Lawrence, second; Hunt, short; Brehanney, third; Dunn, left; Feigert, center, and McCullough, right. It has been decided to shift McCullough back to his former post in right field and use Brehanney at the hot corner. However, this change is only for experimental purposes, and if the Woodlawn youth shows any kind of stuff at third he will be retained; otherwise McCullough will be stationed at third and Flynn or possibly Greenae or Bryan in right field. There is also a likelihood that Jamieson will be used in right field when not pitching.

De Mont will not report to the locals until Saturday, it was stated today. De Mont is an outfielder of tested ability.

The Canton team has been going strong in the second half and they are anxious to trip the locals. The team that gains a verdict over the combined forces now will have to play a real brand of baseball.

So far as the records of organized baseball show the only quadruple-header in a regular league took place some 30 years ago when the St. Louis and Sioux City teams of the Western league played three five-inning games and one seven-inning contest in one day. The league authorities permitted only one game to stand in the record of championship contests. Three nine-inning contests by the same teams in one day were fairly common a few years ago but nowadays the National Commission frowns on the playing of more than two games a day.

Combining Two Sports — By Feg Murray

When Andre Gobert won the amateur golf championship of France recently, he performed a feat that had never before been done by an athlete, for Gobert had previously been the tennis champion of his native land, and thus became the first individual who had ever won both the golf and tennis titles of a nation. Gobert's first tennis championship of France was won back in 1911, his last in 1920. In between those two victories he won scores of other court trophies, as well as many decorations for distinguished service during the war as an observer in the air forces. In winning the golf championship of France this year, Gobert defeated Andre Vagliano, who had beaten him in the finals in 1925.

In any discussion of tennis and golf combined, the name of Mary Browne immediately comes to mind. The California girl's stunt of reaching the final round of the national golf tournament and the semi-final round of the national tennis tournament only six weeks apart, is second only to Gobert's dual victory in merit.

And Miss Browne, in her match with Helen Wills, gave the champion a much harder battle than did Molla Mallory in the finals. Besides being the second best woman tennis player and golfer in 1924, Mary was the national tennis champion in 1912, 1913 and 1914. Miss Browne claims that golf takes more courage than tennis, and she ought to know.

It is easier to mention famous tennis players who have turned to golf than vice versa. That is probably because as we grow older we naturally seek less active games. The famous Maurice McLoughlin is a case in point, and he shoots regularly in the low 70's, and once turned in a round of 63 on a par 72 course. Norman Brookes, famous Australian tennis star, is one of the best southpaw golfers in the world, and Fred Alexander and Teddy Pell are both A-1 golfers as well as famous tennis players. My brother, R. Lindley Murray, United States tennis champion in 1918, is now an enthusiastic golfer, and hopes to break 80 any day.

Among those who are golfers first, then tennis players, are Cyril Tolley and Joyce Wethered of England.

Feg Murray Says—

"Instead of changing from an amateur to a professional, this young lady should change from a fraulein to a frau."—Editorial on Cecilia Aussem, German tennis star, in a New York newspaper.

Obviously quite easy for a tennis player, as all she has to do is to chop off the "lein".

Radiator Stars And Edenburg Tie

Game At Radiator Field Ends In Deadlock 10 To 10

The Radiator Stars and Edenburg battled to a 10-10 draw in a seven inning Twilight League game played on Tuesday night at the National Radiator field. The game was featured by extremely heavy slugging.

Edenburg jumped into the lead in the first inning by tallying four runs but these were not sufficient to subdue the hustling Stars. By the end of the second inning the Radiators had tied the count and the battle was nip and tuck for the remainder of the game.

Grey and Myers each hit for the circuit, while Jordon had four hits, including two triples and a single. Pannell had three hits with two of them doubles. The grand total of hits for the affair was 33.

With the exception of William T. Tilden and the late William A. Larned no player has held the American tennis championship beyond the age of 30. Tilden is now 34 while Larned managed to preserve his championship ability until he was 40.

In 1866 Baltimore won three baseball games from Louisville in one day, both cities then being in the National league.

Lawrence Indies Defeat Garlands

S. Zidow Pitches One-Hit Game Against West Pittsburg Team

The Lawrence Indies retained first place in the Lawrence County Twilight League on Tuesday night at the Cedar street field by toppling the West Pittsburg Garlands 11 to 6.

S. Zidow on the knoll for the Indies allowed the Garlands but one hit and fanned 4 men. The Garlands utilized Braykovich and Butera on the mound. The Indies scored at least one run in every inning with the exception of the second.

Five errors marred the game to a certain extent.

Bobby Jones Is Tourney Leader

American Golfer Holder Of British Golf Crown Is Defending Title

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, July 13.—Bobby Jones was away to a flying start in the British open golf championship today with his card showing only 32 strokes for the first nine holes of today's round in the championship proper.

Jones' golf on the outward journey was in his most brilliant style.

Jim Barnes, meanwhile, was playing good golf but he turned in a 38 for the same nine that Jones shot in 32. Barnes was bunkered at the fifth and missed a putt thereafter and again missed a one-yard putt at the sixth. Barnes' card out follows:

Out 3-5-4-5-6-4-4-3-4—38.

The Philadelphia Athletics have finished first in the American league seven times and lost seven times.

Change Lawrence Loop Schedule

Games At Energy, Croton And Bessemer At 6:15 P. M.

Lawrence county loop officials have revamped the second half schedule for the six league teams and games will be played this evening at Energy, Croton and Bessemer.

According to the new calendar the visiting teams will be the Independents at Energy, Pennsylvania at Croton and Wampum at Bessemer.

Umpires who have been assigned to arbitrate games are Kroesen and Hudson at Croton, Parks and Evans at Energy and BcCormick and McCann at Bessemer.

According to league managers, the league should be faster than ever as there are sufficient stars to make each nine in the league a combination of class.

All of the league contests will start at 6:15 p. m. and it is anticipated that the biggest crowds of the season will turn out to watch the teams that are making a fight for first place.

New Castle Will Battle Elks Here Saturday Afternoon

The Beaver Falls Elks will be the attraction at Centennial field on Saturday afternoon. The New Castle & P. team hopes to defeat the Elks and chase the jinx that has followed this team all year.

The game Saturday is scheduled to start at 3:15 o'clock daylight savings time. Feigert, Jamison and Hospidor are ready to take the mound for the locals. Hilty will be the pitching choice of the valley team, is the indication.

On Sunday afternoon New Castle-Youngstown will play the Cleveland Tellings at Youngstown.

Two eights of women recently raced over the Thames course from Putney to Mortlake. This is the first time women's crews have rowed the course made famous by the annual Oxford Cambridge varsity race. The winning crew of women covered the distance (about four and a half miles) in 27 minutes 57 seconds.

Babe Ruth Hits 30th Home Run

Yanks Increase Leadership By Defeating Cleveland; Cubs-Pirates Win

SISLER'S HOMER WINS FOR BROWNS

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 13.—With the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates fighting grimly for first place, and the Cardinals and Giants "carrying on" within a reachable distance back of them, the National League race has developed into a pretty affair but the American League marathon, with the Yankees away out in front, and alone, is beginning to resemble a farce.

All four leading National League clubs whipped their second division competitors yesterday. The Giants, who finally are pulling away steadily from the .500 mark and getting into the thick of the race, nosed out the Reds, 3 to 2, Hornsby's homer and single accounting for all of New York's runs. It was Hornsby's sixteenth home run of the season. The third place Cardinals broke a 4 to 4 tie in the eighth by scoring four runs against the Phillies and put the game on ice, the final score being 9 to 6. The Pirates beat Brooklyn 2 to 1, getting to Dazzy Vance for a run in the eighth and another in the ninth after he had pitched sensational ball. Vance fanned eleven Pirates but Carmen Hill, the Pittsburgh pitcher, was stingier with hits if less spectacular. The league-leading Cubs took a 6 to 2 victory from the floundering Braves with neatness and dispatch.

Only six points separate the Cubs and Pirates in the battle for first place, Chicago's percentage being .636 as against .630 for Pittsburgh.

Babe Ruth smacked his thirtieth home run of the season, and incidentally, the Yankees won another game, beating Cleveland 7 to 0, and strengthening New York's already commanding lead. Shocker allowed the Indians only seven scattered hits.

Washington continues to play winning ball, downing Detroit 9 to 6, but the Senators can hardly be regarded as a threat to the Yanks as they are 112 points behind. The third place White Sox went on a batting spree, driving Rommel and Pate off the mound and winning from the Athletics 8 to 5.

The Red Sox surprised no one by losing again. St. Louis taking them 6 to 5. Sisler's home run in the ninth with two on spelled bad news for Boston.

Spanish Boxer Defeats Zivic

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 13.—Fight fans expressed surprise today at the decisive defeat of Jack Zivic, veteran Pittsburgh boxer, last night at the hands of Hilario Martinez, Spanish welterweight. Martinez handled Zivic roughly most of the route.

Monte Munn of Lincoln, Neb., who had not fought for four months since he was beaten by Knute Hansen, came back with a vengeance, knocking out Dan Bright, formerly of England, in the third round. Bright didn't have a chance.

Suzanne Lenglen the French star made her first appearance in the tournament play at the age of 11. She did well and was beaten only in the final heat.

Hill's Hurling And Hit In Ninth Wins For Pirates

BROOKLYN, July 13.—Carmen Hill outpitched Dazzy Vance and the Pirates defeated the Dodgers 2 to 1 here Tuesday afternoon. The Pirates came from behind in the ninth to win the game.

The Dodgers scored their only run in the fifth when Barrett singled between Traynor and Groh, Traynor stopping the ball. Butler sacrificed and DeBerry singled between Traynor and Groh. Hill had three balls and one strike on Vance when the pitcher drove a liner to Cuyler, but Cuyler was out of position for a throw to the plate and Barrett beat it out by an inch.

In the eighth with the Pirates up after Hill had been retired, Sprout Waner sent a hit to left center. Groh drove the ball to right and Sprout went to third. Paul Waner singled, scoring his brother.

The nine found Ki Cuyler walking to first and he stole second and Harris sent him to third with a sacrifice. Gooch walked and Hill drove a bounder to Partridge and Cuyler scored ahead of the throw.

Welch Elected As Pitt Track Captain

PITTSBURGH, July 13.—Gilbert L. "Gibby" Welch, Parkersburg, W. Va., captain-elect of the Pittsburgh University football team, today also was captain-elect of the 1928 track team.

Votes mailed to graduate manager K. E. Davis, by members of this year's track squad today revealed that Welch was their choice to head another of the school's athletic teams.

Welch holds the University's record for the shot put, javelin and discus throw.

Baltimore will entertain both the southern and and middle states rowing regattas this year, the first on July 23 and the second on Labor Day.

The PRESSURE GAUGE

MANUFACTURERS of Automobiles are careful to lay great stress upon the importance of oil pressure as indicated by the pressure gauge upon the dash. It should always register maximum, else trouble begins. Proper register is obtained and maintained by the use of proper oil of required grade. As the oil is diluted by passage of unburnt fuel past the piston rings, the pressure becomes weaker and nearer the danger point. The sealing of piston rings with the oil from the crank case against this unburnt fuel prolongs the quality of the oil. Many good motor oils will provide the proper seal and if the motorist knows what brand will accomplish this requirement, he is safe in his purchase.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

SPORTS DONE BROWN
By NORMAN E. BROWN

"Just what part has Estelle Taylor (Mrs. Jack Dempsey) played in the career of the ex-heavyweight champion since their meeting and consequent romance?"

That question has been asked of me hundreds of times. It is being popped again as Dempsey essays a comeback in the ring against Jack Sharkey, with hopes high of winning his way to a return bout with Tunney.

Some of the queries are prompted simply by morbid curiosity. Others are made sincere, by newspaper and personal friends who, well aware of the part the "missus" can play in one's life, wonder just what influence the movie star has had on Jack's life in general.

I know nothing of their personal affairs. Few persons do. Fewer intimately enough to express an opinion in all fairness to both.

I have felt free to express these thoughts, however:

Not once since the first reports of their friendship came from the coast has there been one tiny line of intimation that this friendship has been jarred by discord.

Not once has there been conveyed even by innuendo the thought that they have been at loggerheads, regarding their respective careers or financial intrests.

The world was told that the romance was one reason for the break between Dempsey and his manager, Jack Kearns. This has not been given the dignity of a denial by Dempsey. Not once has there been any indication that, whatever interest Miss Taylor has had in his career, they have ever carried their discussions regarding the matter to a point where even the most eager gossip mongers could intimate that there was dissension in the Dempsey household.

Miss Taylor has maintained a dignified position through Dempsey's various moves. She has not protruded as much as perhaps other wives might be tempted to in similar circumstances.

Dempsey, by the same token, has adopted the same relation to Miss Taylor's career.

Neither has purposely sought to use the other's name to advantage.

When Dempsey, the fighter, is in the limelight, Miss Taylor, the movie star, enters only as his wife. When the news centers about her, his name is seldom mentioned.

She has steadfastly refused to use the "Mrs. Dempsey" to influence the movie public in her favor.

They have been placed in many trying situations. It is viewed as a far cry from prize fighting to the drawing room life of millionaire movie luminaries. This gap has been spanned quietly, but apparently very firmly, by the two.

The Dempsey's stand as one of the few married couples interested in Hollywood activities who have kept their doorstep clear of scandal of any kind.

Now, if you can find a foothold from which to start one bit of shady talk about the Dempseys' private life, you've got a keen nose for scandal.

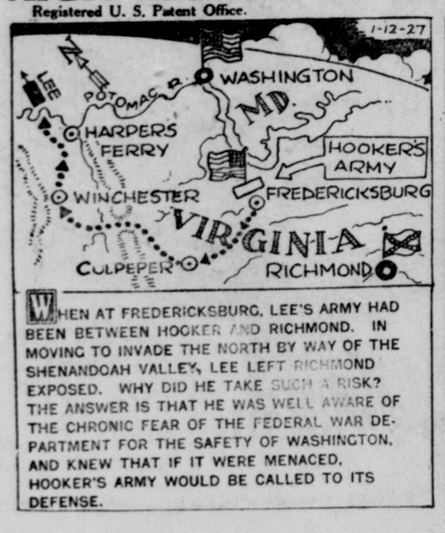
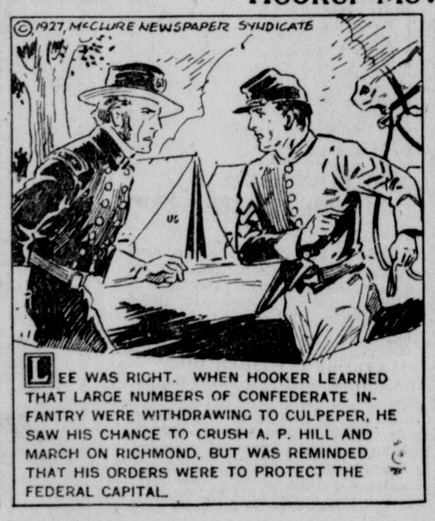
Hooker Moves Northward.

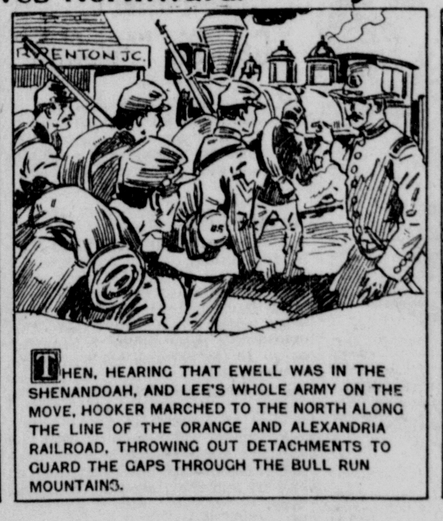
by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



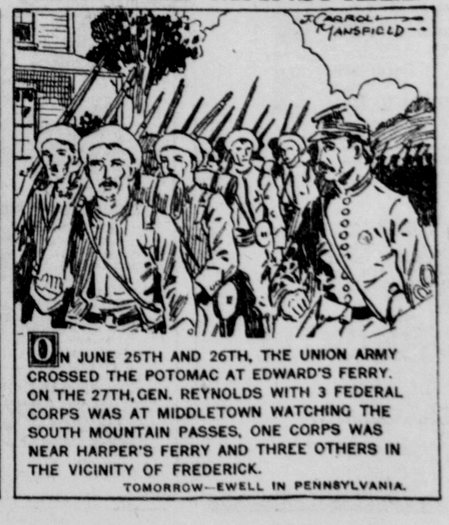
WHEN AT FREDERICKSBURG, LEE'S ARMY HAD BEEN BETWEEN HOOKER AND RICHMOND. IN MOVING TO INVADE THE NORTH BY WAY OF THE SHENANDOAH VALLEY, LEE LEFT RICHMOND EXPOSED. WHY DID HE TAKE SUCH A RISK? THE ANSWER IS THAT HE WAS WELL AWARE OF THE CHRONIC FEAR OF THE FEDERAL WAR DEPARTMENT FOR THE SAFETY OF WASHINGTON, AND KNEW THAT IF IT WERE MENACED, HOOKER'S ARMY WOULD BE CALLED TO ITS DEFENSE.



LEE WAS RIGHT. WHEN HOOKER LEARNED THAT LARGE NUMBERS OF CONFEDERATE INFANTRY WERE WITHDRAWING TO CULPEPER, HE SAW HIS CHANCE TO CRUSH A. P. HILL AND MARCH ON RICHMOND, BUT WAS REMINDED THAT HIS ORDERS WERE TO PROTECT THE FEDERAL CAPITAL.



THEN, HEARING THAT EWELL WAS IN THE SHENANDOAH, AND LEE'S WHOLE ARMY ON THE MOVE, HOOKER MARCHED TO THE NORTH ALONG THE LINE OF THE ORANGE AND ALEXANDRIA RAILROAD, THROWING OUT DETACHMENTS TO GUARD THE GAPS THROUGH THE BULL RUN MOUNTAINS.



ON JUNE 25TH AND 26TH, THE UNION ARMY CROSSED THE POTOMAC AT EDWARD'S FERRY. ON THE 27TH, GEN. REYNOLDS WITH 3 FEDERAL CORPS WAS AT MIDD

Black Clouds At Naval Conference

United States Will Make No Further Concessions To British

INSTRUCT DELEGATES TAKE THINGS EASY

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The clouds of failure that have been hovering over the Geneva naval conference grew perceptibly blacker today.

Administration officials admitted reluctantly that there seems now very little likelihood that the conference will accomplish any real advance toward naval limitation between the three powers, the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

The attitude of the state department, as expressed today, was that this government has gone as far as it can consistently go to meet the British on the cruiser question, and that no further concessions will be made.

American delegates at Geneva have been instructed to "take things easy" for a few days, and let the British and Japanese do the wrangling, for the British and Japanese are farther apart than are the British and Americans.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 13.—The stock market displayed an irregular tendency during early trading today due largely to profit taking in some of the high priced specialties in the face of evidence on the part of other securities to advance. Trading was active, shares dealt in up to 11 o'clock totalling 501,800 as against 469,300 the corresponding time yesterday.

Baldwin Locomotive, which this week reached a new high for the year, eased off a point this morning to 238½; Dodge Brothers which gained ¼ to 19¼ and Southern Pacific moved up 1⅛ to 119⅝.

There was good buyng of railroad stocks and prices in this group were generally higher. Delaware and Hudson was up 1⅞ to 216¼, Erie up ⅜ at 56, New York Central up ⅜ at 151½ and Reading ¼ higher at 118¾.

New Bedford Scouts Winners

Award For Winning All-Western Pennsylvania Honor Is Given

OTHER NEWS OF CAMP ACTIVITIES

Surprise—the biggest one of the season, came Tuesday evening when Scout Executive J. Lee Calahan announced that the New Bedford troop had won the all-western Pennsylvania camporee which was held at Greensburg, Pa. This announcement and presentation of the regional champion's badges to members of the patrol who won the championship followed a play which was presented by that troop at the campfire site Tuesday evening.

"The Heathen Chinee", a humorous sketch, was presented Tuesday evening at the Scout campfire stage. This is the first play that has been presented from the stage, and the New Bedford Scouts presented their play with splendid success.

Ted Ropp, playing as Titus Wadd, showed unusual ability as a thespian. Melvin Moorehouse played dual characters very well, and many of the laughs resulted from his clever work.

The cast of "The Heathen Chinee": Melvin Moorehouse—Dany Douglas.
Isaac Gordon—Hefty Douglas.
David Workman—Kitty O'Day.
Wylie Wallace—Mike O'Day.
Theodore Ropp—Titus Wadd.

Tells of Activities

Perhaps the most impressive speaker at the campfire Tuesday evening was Irwin Ropp, Scoutmaster of the New Bedford Boy Scout troop. The Scouts in the camp were given a glimpse of real Scout work when Mr. Ropp told how his troop of 17 active members had sent 14 boys to camp. Each one of these Scouts earned his own camping money. The New Bedford troop also holds the almost unequaled record of having every boy of Scout age within a radius of five miles within its ranks.

L. B. Round Addresses Scouts

Louis B. Round, chairman of the camping committee, took part in Tuesday evening Scout jubilee over the New Bedford honors. Louie Round was just "Roamin' in the Gloamin" when he arrived at camp ceremonies, so he sang that famous ditty for the Scouts and answered three more encores with Scotch selections. Following his songs Louis gave the Scouts a heart-to-heart talk on their duties as Scouts and citizens.

Takes Part in Program

From the looks of this report it may look to the reader as though the Scouts might have become tired of speech-making Tuesday evening, but they didn't, for A. W. Chilton, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, gave the Scouts a look into the future for them as men and women of tomorrow; thus opening a new field of thinking for the boys.

Kite Champions

John Rudolph and Harold Charbonnier, flying the Red Bird, Spirit of Camp Phillips, were declared winners of the finals in the kite-flying contest at Camp Phillips. These kite artists proved so skillful at flying the large five-foot kite that they used four balls of cord, all the cord they could find, in flying their kites to Grant City (Berlin) and even farther until the extent of the flight was nearly two miles. So-Ki-Tay, flown by Bill McKim and Jack Stone of the Indian village, proved their Indian skill when they took second honors.

Contest Proves Disastrous

The Demon was lost in a tree. The Skyscraper fell in the ocean (Slippery Rock Creek), and the Far Flyer flew so far and so low that it never came back. Thus many were the perils and many were the falls which befell the high hopes of the young aviators.

Dave Ritchie and Jack Porte, winners of the first contest toward the elimination, made a bicycle trip to the camp in order to carry home to New Castle the flying honors of the Scout contest. But apparently they were unfamiliar with the larger planes, for their plane, the Spirit of St. Louis, didn't rate in the Keystone state, hence it fell just between the barn and the sour apple tree.

Make Hike

A 14-mile hike to McConnell's Mills and one to the Y. M. C. A. camp were held Tuesday for the purpose of passing scouting requirements.

New Scouts Arrive Tuesday

Registration for the second week of this period of camp climbed seven more Tuesday, when enough new boys arrived to fill almost all the available facilities in camp. This brings the registration to very near the greatest number of Scouts ever present in camp at one time.

The new campers have been placed in stockades.

Stockade Davy Crockett, hut champions, in charge of John Watson: Edwin Harry, Charles Perov, Ralph Campbell, Dave Hartman, James Whiting and Dave Eppinger.

Dan Boone stockade, hut C. A. Martin, in charge of Ted Ropp: Harry Floyd.

Theodore Ropp Receives Promotion

Theodore Ropp of New Bedford was chosen to lead the Dan Boone stockade following the promotion of Eagle Scout Jack Stone, who has been placed in charge of the Indian village of the camp.

Ropp received his promotion to stockade leader after completing original scouting work during this period of camp. One of the most impressive pieces of work completed by Ropp was a map of New Bedford.
